A GENEALOGY AND HISTORY OF THE
CHURCH FAMILY IN AMERICA
DESCENDED FROM RICHARD CHURCH OF
HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT AND SOUTH HADLEY, MASSACHUSETTS .

"It is indeed a desirable thing to be well descended,
but the glory belongs to our ancestors."

Plutarch.

"The man who feels no sentiment of veneration for the memory of his forefathers; who has no natural regard for his ancestors or his kindred, is himself unworthy of kindred regard or remembrance."

Daniel Webster.

Compiled by Alice M. Church, 1911 to 1948,

Errors will undoubtedly be found. I am however filing the result of my research of thirty five years in the hope that it may be of assistance to others, and that some of them may be able to clear up doubtful lines. Have given authorities whenever possible to aid in checking. Have copied many printed reports that are not available in all libraries in order to place all the records I have found, in one compilation, including considerable data on Garrett of Watertown and John of Dever collected in my search for descendants of the so-called Richard of Hartford.

I have entered all the information I have on the Church daughters under their names in the generation in which they were born.

My copy of Judd's History of Hadley, which I give as reference in much of the earlier history of the family, has bound in with the history, "Genealogies of Hadley Families, embracing the Early Settlers of the towns of Hatfield, South Hadley, Amherst and Granby", by L.M. Belwood, 1862. I understand that these genealogies are bound in with all copies of the History of Hadley by Judd.

There is confusion, especially in the case of the two Jonathans following and many searchers have spent much time on their ancestry. If later information proves the lines beyond doubt my placements may be all wrong and I have carried forward the lines incorrectly. I have come to believe that early genealogists confused these Jonathans who were born and died so close together.

Jonathan⁴- (see pg. 14) , born Dec. 7, 1700, died Oct. 27, 1761, whom I have as son of Richard³ and Elizabeth Noble, John², Richard¹ I believe to be the one who married Abigail Fairbanks Jonathan⁴- (see pg. 19), born Dec. 15, 1702, died Oct. 1761, whom I have placed as son of Josiah³ and Thankful Brooks, Samuel², Richard¹ I think married 1st. Ruth Hitchcock, Nov. 14, 1728 and 2nd. Miriam Chap in Jan. 2, 1745.

I have included some of the discussion and lines supposedly fitting in with one or the other of these Jonathans, commencing on page 202a and hope I have not made the confusion more confusing.

Of the many unconnected lines and statistics in the back of the book the Irish lines especially seem valuable as there must now be many in this country who can connect with them.

Six copies of this compilation have been made and a copy deposited in each of the following libraries:
 Connecticut Historical Society Library, Hartford, Connecticut.
 The New England Historic Genealogical Society, Boston, Massachusetts.
 The Maine Historical Society, Portland, Maine.
 The Newberry Library, Chicago, Illinois.
 Genealogical Library of Salt Lake City, Salt Lake City, Utah.

DESCENDENTS OF RICHARD CHURCH, OF PLYMOUTH, MASS.

BY

JOHN A. CHURCH,

NEW YORK.

P R E F A C E .

Immigrants of the name of Church have been coming to this country since the earliest Colonial days and they are coming still, several having arrived within the last half century. There were five Colonial immigrants who became the founders of important families. In the order of their arrival, or of our first knowledge of them, these Founders are:

Richard of Plymouth, Massachusetts, 1630.

Garrett of Watertown, probably 1631. He was a man of mark in Boston in 1634.

RICHARD OF HARTFORD, Connecticut, 1632 or 3.

John of Dover, New Hampshire, 1665.

David of Marlborough, Massachusetts, 1703 to 9.

In addition there were some pre-Revolutionary immigrants who arrived in time to take part in that struggle. The best known of these was General Philip Church.

David of Marlborough has been confounded constantly with David the son of Garrett, but the evidence that they were different men is convincing.

David of Marlborough was one of the patentees of that town in 1709 and married Mary Wilder in 1710. He may have gone there earlier, perhaps in 1703. His ancestry and the date of his arrival, if an immigrant, are not known. Probably he was a young man. He had four children, Adonijah 1710, Noah 1712, Ephraim 1714 and Mary 1717. Noah moved westward to the boundary of New York and founded the town of New Marlborough.

Garrett's David was born in Watertown, Mass., 1657, married there Mary _____ and had John 1687 and Sarah 1689. In 1708 he went to Killingly, Conn., of which place he was a patentee and Town Clerk for twenty years. In 1758 he deeded land to his "well beloved son" John and mentions his grandson John. The grandson married Amy Winter and after his death his son, Also John, went with his mother to Fort Western (Augusta) Maine.

The cessation of children after the second child has led to the supposition that Garrett's David lost his wife, and the genealogists say that he married again, another Mary _____, but there is no evidence of the fact. The records of Killingly have the death of Mary widow of David Church, 17 Dec. 1781. He had seven Great grandchildren born in Killingly to "John and Amy Church."

Thus the lives of the two Davids run parallel from the year 1708-9, he of Marlborough having four children in seven years, 1710 to 17, during which years the son of Garrett rose from 57 to 64 years of age. One family moved west, the other east.

It is possible that the Marlborough David belonged to one of the other families, though the names Adonijah and Noah seem to be confined to his family. Eliminating mere conjecture these are the known facts that distinguish the two Davids.

Many attempts have been made to compile a history of two of the Church families, those of the two Richards, but the only one published is that by Hon. J.W. Arnold, "History of the Church Family", 1887. Individual members have had partial genealogies compiled, the data being confined to their immediate line. This is true especially of the Hartford family. Mr. William A. Goodwin, who compiled the annual legislative statistics of Connecticut up 1882, made such a genealogy and is said to have traced the family (which one is not known) far back in England. This work has been lost. He is said to have offered a copy of it to Morris Church for One Dollar but Morris declined. .

The name of CHURCH is of english origin and was probably given to its first bearer because of his residence near a church. It is found on ancient records in the various forms of Chyrch, Chircho, Chirch, and Church. In Scotland the name of similar origin is Kirk.

Copied from "Thomas Hooker" by George Leon Walker, 1891.

In 1632 a company of people from Essex county, England, came to America and settled temporarily at Mount Wollaston, near Boston, with the expectancy of Thomas Hooker following them and in 1632 this group of settlers from the towns and vicinity of Braintree, Colchester and Chelmsford - the scenes of Mr. Hooker's English ministry- were known as "Mr. Hooker's Company". Mr. Hooker was then in Holland and did not arrive until more than a year afterward.

Hooker came to America in 1633, embarking at the Downs, England, in the "Griffin". 200 passengers were on the ship. Rev. Cotton Mather, Rev. Samuel Stone, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Haynes, afterward Governor of Massachusetts and Connecticut, Atherton Hough and others of good estates arrived in Boston September 4, 1635. Settled at Newtown, Massachusetts, where a church had been organized fourteen months before, and had erected a "house for public worship" in 1632, had chosen William Goodwin its Ruling Elder. About 100 families were in Newtown in 1633. Some of this company apparantly went to Connecticut before September 1635, for on the 3rd. of that month William Westwood was "sworn constable of the plantations at Connecticut till some other be chosen". When spring came the rest of the company were ready for flight.

March 3, 1635 John Steele and William Westwood were appointed to "govern the people at Connecticut". They held a 'Corte' at Newton (Hartford) 26 April, 1636. They crossed the Connecticut river on rafts after four days of travel and on the spot where Hartford now is * "Mr. Hooker's Company" rested. Agents of the Newtown were employed to purchase the ground, Rev. Samuel Stone and Elder William Goodwin being the persons designated for the purpose. The territory embraced in this purchase was about what was subsequently known as the township of Hartford. This was parcelled out in lots of about two acres each.

A map of Hartford in 1640 prepared from original records shows a lot under the name of Richard Church, and his name appears on a monument in the Gold Street cemetery in Hartford as one of the founders of that city, but I have been unable after a long search to find his name as a passenger on any ship coming to America or to substantiate the seemingly general claim that he was one of Hooker's company. Paige's Cambridge (NewTown) does not give him as among those who went with Hooker to Hartford. The names of William Westwood, Steven Hart, Thomas Spencer, James Olmstead, also on this monument, appear in NewTown and then in list of those who went to Hartford. Found nothing in Deane's "Scituate" to show that Richard Church had been there. The inscription on the monument is -
To the Founders of Hartford and the Makers of the Constitution of Connecticut.

Extracts copied from "History of the First Church in Hartford" from 1633 to 1883, By George Leon Walker. Commencing on pg. 154.

All accounts agree that the Hartford Church difficulties began in antagonism between the Teaching-Elder Stone and Ruling-Elder Goodwin. Stormy meetings of the Church followed, in which "charge of infringement" of the prerogatives of others in this act of the Teacher, was urged by Mr. Goodwin, but in which the majority of the Church stood by the Teacher and "acquitted" him, but the charge, though rejected by the Church after debate in two meetings, was again preferred in a former paper by a Mr. Cullick to which the Church sent a reply. The agitation, however, continued and, at some meeting of the Church, Mr. Stone was so far wrought upon as to resign his office and the account of this is one of the documents of the minority, and may perhaps be received with allowance for some partisan coloring. The majority hereupon apparently withdrew from communion with the Church, but being remonstrated with therefor, by letters received from Mr. Stone, again acting it would seem, in the official capacity he had renounced - and others of the brethren, they replied, March 12, 1656, refusing to recognize Mr. Stone as a officer of the Church, and calling for "an able and indifferent Council mutually chosen" to consider the whole case.

This letter is signed by John Webster, at this time Deputy Governor, John Cullick, Nathaniel Ward, Andrew Bacon, Andrew Warner, John White, John Crow, Thomas Standley, John Barnard, Gregory Vokerton, John Arnold, Zachary Fild, Richard Church, George Steele, Olias Goodwin, Will Partridge, John Marsh, Isaac Graves, Benjamin Harbert, Wm. Leawie, Thomas Bunc. It will be observed William Goodwin's name does not appear. Possibly he was not included in the letter sent by the Church to the withdrawing party.

Copied from History of Hadley, by Sylvester Judd, 1863.

The Town of Hadley is one of the oldest on the Connecticut Valley. Differences of opinion in relation to discipline, baptism and qualifications for Church membership had so rent the cities of Hartford and Wethersfield, that Governor John Webster, Elder William Goodwin and Rev. John Russell, with their friends, at length decided to seek a new home at a higher point on the river.

To brave the journey of fifty miles through the wilderness, to lay again the foundations of a new town, was of course no small undertaking, yet the peace of the Colony requiring it, such was their resolve. Accordingly on the 18th. day of April 1659, the company to the number of sixty met at the house of Nathaniel Ward in Hartford and signed an agreement for their regulation and government, pledging themselves to remove to the plantation purchased on the east side of the river Connecticut, beside Northampton, as early as the 29th. of September of the following year. For various reasons twenty of the original signers failed to fulfill their engagements and their places were supplied by others. The town was settled and has ever since continued to prosper.

In the list of names of men who agreed to remove to Hadley at the meeting at the home of Nathaniel Ward, are the names of Richard and Samuel Church.

Under the agreement made at that time every Planter was to have a houselot of eight acres but this equal distribution did not extend to other lands. Samuel Church lived with his father and had no houselot. In 1663 there were forty seven houselots laid off.

In 1700 the town of Hadley owed widow Mary Church thirty shillings and paid her by an adjustment of tax rates in which Samuel and Josiah Church's rates were mentioned, also Joseph Church's rate.

In 1672 the people of Hadley asked the General Court for an enlargement of their township. This petition was signed by thirty eight persons, among them being Edward and Samuel Church.

Changes made in South Hadley between 1663 and 1687. - Edward Church removed to Hatfield. Sold his houselot to Joseph and Thomas Selding. In 1681 seventy nine persons were taxed for building Fort River Bridge in Hadley, among them being non-resident Samuel and Edward Church. In 1686 eighty two persons were taxed for the town debts of Hadley, among them being, widow of Samuel Church and Edward Church. In April 1703 land was divided among the householders and Samuel, Josiah, Joseph and Edward Church were allotted a portion of land.

In the assault of the French and Indians upon Deerfield February 29th. 1704, Samuel Church of Hadley was wounded in the arm and Benjamin was wounded in the foot.

In the crown Point and Canada expeditions, the sixth war commenced in 1754 and continued until 1763. The following names of members of the Church family appear on Muster Rolls, Rolls of Enlistment and other papers at the State House in Boston; 1755 Nathaniel Church Jr. from South Hadley, John Church 1758, Benjamin Church, 1759 Joel Church, Timothy Church and Richard Church Jr. and in 1762 Simeon Church.

First school in Hartford on March 28, 1660, liberty was granted to Mr. Wm. Pitkin to teach in Hartford. He was a lawyer about 24 years of age. In November following the business men were empowered to hire the house of John Church for a school house and to encourage Mr. Pitkin to teach such scholars as shall be sent him. There is no record of a grant then made for his support. This house was that of Richard Church on North Main Street, which he had bought from William Spencer. It was probably vacant because of removal of the owner with the "Withdrawers" to Hadley. It is another instance proving that early schools were kept in private houses.

the Freeman's Oath being mentioned so frequently in New England records I was curious to know just what it contained, and in the earlier years of my research made many inquiries of librarians and researchers in libraries but none of them could tell me, or where I could find it. Finally I came across it by chance in Joseph B. Felt's History of Ipswich, Essex and Hamilton, printed in 1834, and copy it here as I believe this old history is not available in all libraries.

FREEMEN

To become a freeman, each person was legally required to be a respectable member of some Congregational Church. Persons were made Freeman by the General Court of the Colony, and also by quarterly courts of the counties. None but Freeman could hold office or vote for rulers. This regulation was so far modified by Royal Order, in 1664, as to allow individuals to be made Freeman, who could obtain certificates of their being correct in doctrine and conduct from clergymen acquainted with them.

1634, May 14th. a law is passed that the whole body of Freeman meet, from all the towns, at the General Court of Election, and choose the Magistrates, including Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

1636, March 3rd. Ipswich and five other towns are allowed to keep a sufficient guard of Freeman at home from such a court and to forward their proxies.

1663, October 26th. The practice of Freeman's meeting in Boston to elect magistrates is repealed. This repeal, however, was so unpopular that the same practice was renewed next year, but it seems to have gone down soon after. At first, danger from Indians was pleaded, why border and distant towns should retain part of their Freemen from General Election. At last the greatness of the number, when assembled from the whole Colony to choose the Magistrates, and the concurrent inconveniencies of this custom, appear to have been the cause of producing an alteration, which substantially accords with present usage.

FREEMEN'S OATH

1634, May 14th. The General Court order this oath to be so far altered, as to accord with following form.

"I, A.B., being by God's providence an inhabitant and freeman within the jurisdiction of this commonwealth, do freely acknowledge myself to be subject to the Government thereof, and therefore do here swear by the great and dreadful name of the everlasting God, that I will be true and faithful to the same, and will accordingly yield assistance and support thereunto, with my person and estate, as in equity I am bound; and I will also truly endeavor to maintain and preserve all the liberties and privileges thereof, submitting myself to the wholesome laws and orders, made and established by the same. And further, that I will not plot nor practice any evil against it, nor consent to any, that shall so do, but will truly discover and reveal the same to lawful authority now here established, for the speedy preventing thereof. Moreover, I do solemnly bind myself in the sight of God, that when I shall be called to give my voice, touching any such a matter of this state, wherein freemen are to deal, I will give my vote and suffrage, as I shall judge in mine own conscience may best conduce and tend to the public weal of the body, without respect of persons or favor of any man; so help me God in the Lord Jesus Christ."

A history of this Richard-of-Hartford branch of the Church family going far back in England was prepared for Mr. Alonzo Church and is given in brief in the genealogy of Simeon Church, a descendant of Richard-of-Hartford, by Mr. Charles Washburn Church, 1914.

It is said to have been compiled by Mr. Gustave Anjou, a noted author and genealogist, who died in 1942. In addition to what is printed in the Simeon Church genealogy I have all the references, given me by Mr. Alonzo Church, with the complete English ancestry as made up for him. However, as this work has been discredited by another eminent genealogist, Mr. Gardner Bartlett, who is also not now living, in "The Genealogical Magazine, Vol. III, pg. 192, Dec. 1915 to September 1916, it probably should not be taken as positive proof of the English ancestry. I have been unable to have the references checked in England and for that reason am not including what I have on it.

GENERATION NO. I

RICHARD CHURCH

"Calendar of State Papers Domestic, Series of the Reign of Charles I, 1636-7, Vol. 10, pg. 307. "Note of a lease made 16th. September 1633, by Sir Francis Crane to Richard Church and Ann his wife, of a cottage in Hartwell, for 31 years at the yearly rent of 3 4d and on payment of a fine of 15l 6s 3d"

This refers to a Hartwell in Northamptonshire, where records prior to 1684 were destroyed. If this refers to the Richard and Ann who came to America they must have come soon after making the lease.

Early Probate Records of New Haven, Book I Part I, 1647-1687 in Vol. 81, pg. 131, New England Historical and Genealogical Reg.

"Preston, Robert, will made 10th. of 3rd. Mo. 1648. Bequests to Nathaniel and Elizabeth Graves of Hartford, to Thomas Beament, to Goodman and goodwife Low, to my master Richard Church of Hartford and to his son Edward Church, to John Meggs, and to Job Hall. Witnesses; John Meggs, Andrew Low, Job Hall. Will presented in Court July 2, 1650, but not accepted as a legal will, but William Perck and Andrew Low were appointed to distribute the estate according to writing. Inventory taken April 2, 1648, by Thomas Munson and Jarvis Boykin."

This record seems to indicate that Richard Church was a man of enough means to bring over from England an indentured man or one bound, who paid him later for his transportation in work or money.

Copied from Minnan's "Puritan Settlers".

"Church, Richard - Was an early settler at Hartford, Connecticut,

Probably came there with Mr. Hooker's Company in 1636. He drew 12 acres of land in the first land divided at Hartford in 1639, and 60 acres in the division of land in East Hartford in 1636. He had land at the Cow Pasture in Hartford in 1640. Viewer of chimneys in 1647. He was freed from watching, warding and training at Hartford, by the General Court March 7, 1654 and 1655.

He was one of the sixty persons who "at a meeting at Goodman Ward's house, in Hartford, April April 18, 1659, signed an agreement to remove themselves and families out of Connecticut into Massachusetts, for the purpose of forming the town of Hadley. He was made free in Connecticut in 1658. Who was his father is not found. "

To illustrate how early historians differed I have copied from Cothren's "History of Ancient Woodbury" published in 1854, page 526. In this work Cothren states that the Richard Church who settled in Plymouth and the Richard Church who settled in Hartford were one and the same man. This has been proven incorrect. See Mr. John A. Church's genealogy of the family coming from Richard who settled in Plymouth and who married Elizabeth Warren.

"Richard Church emigrated from England and settled at Plymouth, Massachusetts. He came in one of the early companies to that place. As nearly as can now be traced, he was an uncle of Col. Benjamin Church, who commanded the party which killed King Philip in 1675, and who was sent on an expedition against the eastern Indians of New England in 1704., and did then and the French such damage. He removed to Hartford, Connecticut with Mr. Hooker's congregation in 1636. He had several sons and daughters. " Here follows the names of John and Samuel - sons of Richard of Hartford- and their descendants Copied from manuscript prepared for Mr. Alonzo Church by Mr. Gustavo Anjou.

Church, Richard"- Born Feb. 6, 1610 (I believe this date was a typographical error and the birth date was 1601, A.M.C.) son of Richard Church and Alice, his wife, of Braintree Co., Essex, England.

He evidently emigrated from England, coming to the United States with his relatives John Marsh, Nathaniel Marsh and Isaac Graves, settling in Hartford, Connecticut about 1637. His name occurs in the town records of Hartford among the original and early members of the church."

He died in Hatfield, Massachusetts December 16, 1667, while living with his daughter Mary Graves. (In 1935 his gravestone was there, in good repair.)

Married May 13, 1627 Ann Marsh, daughter of Edward of Braintree.

See Genealogy of New England , pg. 1582 for name Marsh as as name of Ann. She died March or Oct. 10, 1684 at Hatfield, Mass. in 84th. year.

The genealogy of the Graves Family by John C. Graves, pub. 1896, pg. 3 states: Isaac Graves, son of Thomas, b. in England, settled in Hartford before 1645, married Mary, dau. of Richard and Ann Church who came from England in 1637. Removed to Hatfield in 1661. A portion of Hadley became Hatfield. The History of Whately, Mass. by J.M.Crafts, pg. 475 states: Graves, Thomas b. England about 1585, came to New England probably before 1645, this being the first date they are found mentioned, same being date of land grant made to him at Hartford. Their son Isaac b. England as early as 1620, mar. Mary, dau. of Richard Church about 1645.

GENERATION NO. II .

Children of Richard 1 and Ann (March) Church.

Deacon Edward^B Born in England, Feb. 26, 1628, d. Sept. 10, or 19, 1704. Buried in Hill Burying Ground, Hatfield, Mass. Hinman says: "Church, Edward- Son of Richard of Hartford, Conn. appeared at Norwalk in the early settlement of the plantation. If he settled there he did not long remain. In a list of lands in 1654, the name of Edward Church is found there. He sold land in Norwalk to Thomas Fitch. He was at Hartford before he went to Norwalk. The Harvey Book, pg. 196 says he was later of Lyme. On his tombstone is: "Deacon Edward Church died ye 10th Sept, 1704 and his wife on ye 17 sept. 1691. He aged 76 years and she 54" Was Surveyor of Highways in January 1663, in 1671 was a Selectman of Hadley, Mass. Feb. 8, 1678 he took the Freeman's Oath of Allegiance in Hatfield. Was still in Hadley in 1686. Sold his house lot to Joseph and Thomas Selding and moved to Hatfield in 1687.

Married Mary Hopkins (perhaps) before 1660, who was born in 1637 and died Sep't. 30, 1690 according to Town Records, but Sep't. 17, 1691 according to grave stone, ae. 54. (9 children)

Church, Samuel² - born May 9, 1636 twin with John, or in 1638. Doubt about exact birth date. Died in Hadley, Mass. April 18, 1684. Was Freeman 4th in 1657. Resided in Hadley, Mass. and in Conn. Was a Hadley Selectman in 1672. In Jan. 1673 a Surveyor and in 1681 a Constable. Tithingmen in Mass. were first ordered in 1667. Hadley Selectmen chose four and they were agreed by the County Court in March 1678, viz Timothy Nash, Samuel Moody, Samuel Church, Chileab Smith. They were to inspect the conduct of liquor sellers, Sabbath breakers, night walkers, tipplers etc. and present the names of the disorderly to a magistrate says Judds History of Hadley, pg. 70.

Samuel took the Oath of Allegiance in Hadley, Feb. 8, 1678. As appears from the Town Records of Hadley he "received 8 acres homelot and accomodation of to". Later on the Town granted him land on the west side of the Great River, formerly owned by ad granted to Goodman Arnold, and Samuel Church "set up a fence around his allotment". In 1683 Samuel lived with his father in Hadley and had no houselot, but in March of that year he received some land.

Married Mary Churchill, dau. of Josiah Churchill and Elizabeth (Foote) Churchill of Weathersfield, Conn. She was born March 14, 1630 and died in 1690. Her father was a member of the Wethersfield Co. in the Pequod War of 1637. She paid taxes in Hadley in 1687. (9 children.) Macquarrie, Vol. III, Will of Josiah Churchill. Inventory taken Jan. 5, 1687-8 mentions wife Elizabeth and dau. Sarah Church. Foote Hist. and Gen. pg. 23, says Elizabeth Foote was born about 1616, married Josiah Churchill and died Sept. 8, 1700, Mary being first child. Shows the daughter of Nathaniel Foote born about 1593 in England.

Both are buried in the 2nd. burying ground in East Haddam, Conn. The inscription on the stone is : Joseph Selden died July 14, 1724, aged 73 years. Rebecca Selden died June 9, 1726 aged 66 years. Judd's Hist. says: In 1696 Joseph Selden being in the Court Room when two of his relatives named Church were fine 20s each for abusing the constable, spoke out and said there was no color of law in what was done, that the men were not guilty. Becoming angry Selden took up the tongs in the room where the Justices sat, and lit his pipe and throw down the tongs violently and used many unhandsome expressions. He was fined 20s. He became a wealthy and respected man in the north part of Lyme, Conn., having removed to that town in 1695.

In Feb. 1695 or 6 Joseph and Rebecca sold their property in Hadley and moved to a farm on the Connecticut river which has ever since been known as the "Selden Homestead". July 16, 1696 Joseph Selden sold to his brother-in-law (the record says, but as his wife had no brother Edward it was probably his father-in-law) Edward Church a piece of Upland called the "Whom Lot" on the east side of the river, also several other tracts of land. Lyme, Conn. Land Records, Liber 1, folio 350. Feb. 17, 1703 Joseph Selden and brother-in-law Samuel Church mutually and lovingly divided lands in the Upper Farm, per Conn. Court Narrative of the proceedings at several of the Holds Justices of the Peace for the County of Middlesex at the Assizes of Oyer & Terminer, taken at Northampton on the 2^d October 1866 by permission of the Hon^{ble} Sir John Stansfeld Barrister at Law in England, who was examined and tried for being guilty of the murder of Richard Church an Englishman in Italy; which was followed.

Upon the 1st of Nov. at about 10 o'clock in the forenoon Several men, from Northampton, Hadley and Hatfield & immediately went forth to the place (about two miles from Hadley in the Wilderness) where P. Wither was slain, and did find P. Church interred by a pine tree through his head by an Arrow shot into his body, his Gun with some parts of his Cloaths and a Knife taken off from his head being carried away from thence, & Soldiers some of them returned home with the dead man, and others did pursue upon their Tracks forward into the Wilderness, in which motion they found where four Indians had lay without fire the night before, as it appeared to them, also in P. pursuit was found and taken up a pair of Deer Horns with some parts cut off nearly and the same parts or pieces found at a fire where they took one of P. Indians and the other three fled (which after came into Hatfield) there also also was found shavings and chips of the same Timber of a Gun stick taken with the Gun. viz. Magicalous Gun, also in o.
of the Indians packs was taken Several Arrow reeds. The same kind of wood with the Arrow fixed and shot into the body of the P. Church. After which P. Soldiers returned with the Indian taken, and soon after the other three Indians came in to Hatfield and being apprehended were had in Examination before Samuel Cartwright, Joseph Hawley Esq. & were (asked by) three
M^{rs} Magistrate Justice &c. together with Mr. Lewis M. Solomon Stoddard & M. Williams two of our Ministers. We were after many examining and contradictory answers from P. Indians

As to the matter of said putting a gun

One of the said Indians Pemequenasaxet by name man of about 18 years of age was ordered the English men to go out to the place where the boat came, and there viewed the place and blood ground. Then and there the said Indian being questioned the matter, he without force, stroke or violence used to him or threats, the said Indian owned that Mawewess

Maguelous two of the said Indians by their gun & bow and arrows killed the said man, showing where they stood

when they killed him, and where himself and Wenepuck stood, considerably distant, and saw them kill the said man and being brought home again and before the afore said Gent. There also, owned the same, that Mawewess

Maguelous killed the said man. Also that Wenepuck being called owned the same. Mawewess & Maguelous

then brought forth, they would not own against themselves

yet Maguelous verified what the first two Indians said, as the Mawewess killed the said man, but not against himself.

We further add that such care was taken least by the Indians might be wronged, that (after their confessions aforesaid) to find out the Truth of what was declared, two of our Justices viz. Joseph Hawley & Joseph Purson with eight other men, taking two of the Indian Prisoners viz.

Maguelous & Wenepuck, to the place where Richd Church is aforesaid was murdered, these two knowing nothing the ever Pemequenasaxet was there, they going in two company with the said Indians separated about a mile from one another leaving the said Indians to lead to the place. Wenepuck at a great distance showed us whereabouts the said Richd

Church was killed, and coming to the place showed us

the very Tree (as he said) where the two Indians stood at the killing the said Church, one being about four rods the other six, distant from the place where the man was killed which Trees were the very same which Pemequenasaxet had shown the week before as appearing by the testimony of the said

by a trained Interpreter, who went out both times then, bringing Wewapeuk in a canoe, the other Indian Magistrates came directly to the same place. I heard the said Interpreter tell the Mawoneff and he himself stood saying, two Mawoneff killed these men.

After which according to a Commission from the Hon.
West. Governor and Council, a Court of Oyer & Terminer was held for his Majesty in Northampton aforesaid on the 24th October 1698.

Where were present

The Honble John Pyncheon Esq.

Samuel Partrigg

Joseph Hawley Esq. Justices

Naion Cooke Esq.

Joseph Panton

and two persons accurate in the Indian Tongue Sworne to be faithful Interpreters.

Also all the Indians from Hurons & thereabout were sent

Benazer Porrony of Council for the King, did in his Majesty's behalf propose a Bill of Judgment against Mawoneff as Principal in Company with several other Indians for murder of Richard Gurne on the fifth day of October 1696. as of the Indictment found & returned by the Grand Jury. Upon which the said Indians was put upon his Trial by a lawful Jury with liberty of Challenge allowed him, his Indictment being read and interpreted verbally, he pleaded Not Guilty.

The Evidence were then produced face to face, and the pleas in the case distinctly interpreted to him, it was committed to the Jury, the Indians all the while being by, who understand both the English and Indian Languages. The Jury brought in their Verdict that they find the said Mawoneff guilty of the said murder of Richard Gurne.

Then the Court asked the Indians what they had to say

The sentence & death should not be put up.
Mayhem. The Indians by their chief, that it was right and ought so to be. For the Judge passed sentence that the 2 Prisoners, that he & Calk, and accordingly did issue out to them the Sheriff, who was executed in Northampton on 23rd of

The like method and proceedings was taken with Maquolous. It being also evidenced to the Jury that about fortnight before the man was killed that the 2 Maquolous said he would kill an Englishman in the Bay because they were unwilling they should hunt in their woods, as also upon the pursuit of the track he the 2 Maquolous in company with the rest as he would, and gun this gun in his gun, the chips of which were of the same wood was found in their track, and also an arrow in the 2 turns bar, made of the same wood with the arrows found in his gun.
The Jury had also the other two Indians examine affirming all along with their first confession that was active with Maquolous in killing the 2 Englishman.
Staid with him & came not to the other two Indians till midnight.
The Jury also found him according to his Indian testimony as a principal, who was the same day executed.
As to the other two Wenepuck & Senecaux they were likewise distinctly tried & found guilty as before and committed to the Sheriff's care, who since are got at liberty.

Thus it may be seen with what false reports concerning this matter his Ex^{ty} Govern^r Fletcher hath been entertained, with the Indians Narrative. And they say?

1. That our English going out lost the track & so want of provisions returned and went again the next day.
2. That the 2 Indians were taken in a snare which they made for the convenience of their hunting.
3. That they several times whipped Wenepuck & Senecaux that Confessions from them - that they were carried to Hadley, tyed to a Tree & for - any harsh means used with them to make them confess - which they refusing, were shot to death -

That the mischief done at Deerfield last Summer was charged on them -

In answer to which Allegations, Besides what We have already said in our Narrative in short We cannot but say that all those reports are most notoriously false. For

Our men immediately upon the report of the Murder went from Northampton to Hadley, and from thence about midnight went to the place where the dead man was, where they lay until morning, and by a small party finding the dead man home, the rest being in number about forty with nine or ten Indians as soon as they could well see, they searched for the Tracks of the Murders, found it and pursued it until they came within sight of these Indians as they were walking in the woods. Upon discovery of our men they fled, one of our men made a shot & wounded Mawneest in the thigh, who then hid himself and being wounded came not in until within night, two escaped to Wenepuck & Maquolow, who run to Hadley, the youngest namely Pemeguanaxet was taken in flight & brought to Hadley, and without the least abuse or injury ever offered to him, the next day confessed the Fact, upon w^{ch} Wenepuck also, without any Stroke, threat, injury or abuse confessed the same, so also the third & eldest Mawneest, and stood to it to the full issue of their Trials -

As to the mischief at Deerfield, killing them & carrying them away Captives, we always concluded it was the French Indians and never charged it upon them -

The Old Church Home Torn Down.

Passing of another Revolutionary House that had an interesting history.

Burning of Norwalk by British Recalled.

Beaver and felt hats manufactured in shop that stood by brook in the hollow.

Within the past few weeks the old Church home in Westport Avenue has been sold, torn down and scattered to the four winds of Heaven. This ancient home was built by David Hendrick Joyner for Ebenezer Church in April of 1787. The glass and nails were purchased from Christopher Deming of Huntington, Long Island, across the Sound from Norwalk. An ancestor who has been looking up something of the family history has gleaned interesting facts which he has placed at the disposal of the Hour.

Ebenezer Church, he says, was born in Hartford, January 10, 1719. When a young man he came to Norwalk and learned to make hats. He purchased the large farm in 1745. He built his hat shop on the small brook in the Hollow, and here manufactured hats, not the kind that you get at the economy stores, but beaver and felt hats which were worn by the best men in town, and not alone confined to Norwalk, but sold in New York and towns along the Hudson River. He married January 17, 1746, Susannah Fitch, by whom he had two children - Daniel, b. March 1, 1746, married Oct. 16, 1763 Sarah Pickett. Richard, born Oct. 6, 1747.

His second wife, Mrs. Ruth Raymond Sears, whom he married Nov. 17, 1755, and by whom he had: Sarah, b. Oct. 15, 1756, m. Dr. Stephen Perry, Feb. 23, 1835. Ebenezer, b. July 31, 1758 m. Mrs. Polly Hoyt Gregory who died May 23, 1841. Ruth, b. Jan. 29, 1760, m. Captain Steven Betts. Captain of one of the alarm companies during the burning of Norwalk, died March 24, 1835. Esther, b. March 23, 1762, d. Oct., 1836. Samuel, born Nov. 25, 1763, d. Oct. 18, 1776. Grace, born Aug. 7, 1765, d. Nov. 8, 1776. Josiah, born Jan. 12, 1767, d. Dec. 21, 1832. John, born Jan. 12, 1769, d. Nov. 29, 1839. Elizabeth, born Oct. 10, 1770, d. Oct. 1824. Isaac, born May 3, 1773, d. April 9, 1844, married Esther Marvin Dec. 15, 1792.

These were the people who passed their lives under the roof of the old homes, both the previous and the present one. The massive elms were a pride to behold.

The Church's were upright and loyal to the Episcopal Church, both by giving of their money and time, and by faithful attendance at its services.

At the time of the burning of Norwalk this home was saved by the faithful wife, who, as the soldiers started to burn brushed back the fire from the hearth, and called for the officer in charge, and explaining that they were loyal subjects of King George, saved the home.

From Genealogical column of "The Norwalk Hour" Conn. newspaper, Jan. 4, 1908.

Mrs. Esther M. (Church) Quintard has kindly furnished the following list of persons whose bodies have been entombed in the Ebenezer Church 1st. vault in St. Paul's Churchyard:

Ebenezer Church, his second wife Ruth-Raymond (Sears) Church and their sons and daughters Josiah, John, Elizabeth and Esther. Sarah-Sears Thomas (dau. of Ruth-Raymond Sears), Isaac Church Sen. (son of Ebenezer 1st.) his wife Esther (Marvin) Church and their sons and daughters, Ebenezer, Josiah, Eliza and Esther. Ebenezer Church Jr. (son of Ebenezer 1st.) his wife Polly (Hoyt)(Gregory) Church, and their sons and daughters James R., George, Mary E., Anna M. and Frances A. William Church, (son of Ebenezer Jr.) His wife Elizabeth (Disbrow) Church and their son and daughter William F. and Isabella T.

Entries in the last day book of Ebenezer Church show that his vault was constructed for him by James Banes and William Bouton August and September 1794. Sarah Church (Mrs. Sturges Perry) is supposed to be buried in this vault.

Date on Nathaniel's stone in "New" cem. at Salisbury. "The Hamlin Family" says: He lived most of his life in and near Falls Village, Conn. where he had a saw mill; was a farmer; Whig, Methodist. Among the first to open their doors to the persecuted Methodists.

Cothern says:- He was apprenticed to a Weaver who was a hard master, he left him at 18 and enlisted in the Continental army, Captain Burd's company, Col. Silliman's Reg't. Was wounded at White Plains by a grapeshot larger than a hickory nut. After his recovery he went to Canaan. After his first marriage he removed to Salisbury. D.A.R. 1895 traces from Nathaniel.

Aimee,⁵ - Born July 16, 1759, died Sep't. 17, 1843.

Married 1776 Ezra Green, a Rev. soldier born Jan. 30, 1754, died Sept. 25, 1824. Woodbury vitals calls her Amy.

Copy of letter written by Nathaniel and Ruth Church "Salisbury, Conn. June 17, 1806. Dear Friends and Brothers: As death is the lot of all men, you will not be surprised at receiving this early information that our Brother and Friend, John Hamblin, exchanged this (we trust) for a better World at 45 minutes after three o'clock A.M. It is the wish of our Honoured Father that as many of you as can with convenience come down and accompany him with the corps to Alford. You also will make such arrangements for the Funeral at Alford as you think proper. Nath'l. and Ruth Church.

N.B. The coffin will be provided here. Frederick you must come with your Wagon and horses, the teams are all to the River. Wee must be Down Toknight."

Nathaniel Jr.⁵- Born Dec. 5, 1728, "Cordwainer" meaning leather worker, harness maker, or saddler, shoe maker and brick layer. Died

Married Sarah Nathaniel and Sarah left Hadley about 1762 and went to Brattleborough, Vermont. In 1747 Nathaniel Church under Captain Stevens helped defend the Fort at No. 4 (Charlestown, New Hampshire). In 1755 he served in the 6th. Indian War. --- The Selectmen of Hadley, Mass. on May 27, 1762 in the Court of Session, had Sarah Church, wife of Nathaniel Church Jr., and Sarah and Rachel Church and George Collyet, children of said Nathaniel and Sarah "warned to depart and leave Town of Hadley." Nathaniel Church Jr., late of Hadley, cordwainer, on behalf of Sarah Church, his wife, in May 1761 occurs in a recognizance of $50, Nathaniel Church of Hadley and Jos. Burt of Springfield, sureties for the appearance of the said Sarah before the Court of General Session "for aiding one Rachel Collyer in stealing and for having not departed." The above parties were "warned" on Aug. 20, 1761 to leave the town of Westfield, but returned. Nathaniel Church Jr. of Hadley, cordwainer, William Harrison Church, and John Shepard, of Westfield, appeared in the above action Sept. 23, 1761.

William Harrison⁵- Born March 3, 1730, died about 1804.

Married Jane Wood Nov. 15, 1750 (15 children).

Extract from a letter from Mrs. Martha A. (Church) Conger, Gouverneur, N.Y. June 1, 1813: "Will give you an extract from a paper my grandfather wrote in 1843, on his father's family. My grandfather, as you will remember, was a son of Jonathan, the brother of William Harrison. The extract follows:" -- "My uncle, William Harrison, lived in Westfield, Massachusetts, removed to Brattleboro, about 1776 or 1777 and removed to Cambridge, New York about 1782. He was a millwright, had a numerous family. He died in Perue, Clinton County, New York. He was building a mill for Adgate, I believe, on the Sabie river. He was a man I loved like a father and was much loved by all who knew him. " "It is known that Nathaniel left Hadley when Jonathan was about 15 years old and moved to Brattleboro, Vt. This would be about ten years after the marriage of William Harrison. I think all the children of Nathaniel were born at Hadley. If so, William Harrison was born and married there. It is quite likely that most of his children were born in Westfield, Mass. "

Rachel⁵- Born April 10, 1731, died ...

Married Joseph Burt of Springfield April 18, 1750.

Malachi⁵- Born June 24, 1732, died 1735., per Malcolm McCraney.

Married Elizabeth Mills (I found this as Miller but in a manuscript in the Westfield, Mass. library it is Mills and this probably correct as the name Mills ~~maxux~~ is carried on in the family.) April 30, 1753. They removed to Brattleboro, Vt. His nephew D.F.

~~James Harrison July 14, 1733, died young, per his nephew D.F. Church~~ Church in his "Recollections" in the Blakney, Cabin book says: Malachi left his family and started for Canada at the time of the Revolution- that he was the only Tory in the family except his two sons Oliver and J. Mills who went with him.

Jesse⁵- Born July 14, 1733, died young per D.F. Church.

Eben⁵- Born Dec. 14, 1734, died before 1803.

Married Mary Farrand, May 25, 1753. Removed to Brattleboro, Vt. Was head of a family there in 1790. consisting of two males over 16, one female... also lived at Hinsdale, Vt. in 1795 (The first settlers in New Hampshire settled at Hinsdale in 1736/7. It was partly in Vermont and when the inhabitants declared themselves an independent State in 1778 that name was changed shortly afterwards, Oct. 21, 1802, to Vernon. In 1741, a part had been cut off from Northfield and about 1800 moved to near Chenango, New York.) Book, L-431 New York Deeds - Deed, dated 1808, between Mary Church of Coventry, widow of the late Eber Church, and Peter Betts of the same place, containing 21 acres of land, lying in Coventry, consideration $240. Signed Mary Church, presence of Henry Church.

Timothy² - Born May 12, 1736, Hadley, Mass., died in Brattleboro, Vermont, Nov. 23, 1823 per gravestone still in good repair (1941) Made so by Mrs. Clarissa (Church) Dillon. The Bible of Rodney Smith Church says he was 98 when he died. Mrs. Dillon has this Bible.

Married Abigail Church, his second cousin, dau. of Samuel and Damaris (Billings) Church, born Oct. 13, 1735, on June 9, 1756. (Marriage intention dated May 12, 1755.) She died April 12, 1821. Mrs. Dillon copied the names of Churches buried in Afton, N.Y. Sidney and near by points found in the Manuscript Dept. at Albany and the following seems to account for Timothy's wife, whose grave is not found in Brattleboro, where he is buried. "Tombstone record:- "Chenango Co., South Bainbridge Baptist Cemetery- Church, Lieut, Timothy.. Abigail, wife died April 12, 1821, age 77. (This last buried at Sidney) Age must be incorrect on stone. Timothy bought the land in Sidney and gave it for a burial ground. He probably went back to Vermont after she died and it was too great an undertaking to take his body to New York State.

Jan. 4, 1776, he was appointed 2nd. Lieut. of the Cumberland Co. Militia, and on Aug. 18, 1778, was appointed Captain.

The Governor and Council of Vermont, on June 7, 1779, "Resolved that the Captain General's order of May 6th., to Col. Ethan Allen.... be published." The proclamation extended a pardon to "all persons indicted, informed against or complained of...." and among thirty persons we find the name of Timothy Church.

June 5, 1782, he was appointed Lieut. Col. Commandant vice Patterson, who declined acting.

At the Windham County Court, held at Marlborough, Dec. 1781 he was licensed to keep a Tavern.

August 22, 1782, Jonathan Hunt, Sheriff of Vermont, endeavored to arrest Timothy Church of Brattleboro, on an execution, which was successfully resisted. Thereupon the special session of the Council of Aug. 29th. was called and commission given to Gen. Wilson to suppress the tumultuous insurrection in the County of Windham. His estate had been confiscated by the Court and under sentence of banishment released from Oct. 4, 1782, taken across the line into New Hampshire by Deputy Sheriff Samuel Avery, who warned him and thirty others that they would incur the penalty of death if they ever returned to Vermont.

The Congress of Dec. 6, 1782, on a motion by Mr. McKean, "Resolved, that the people inhabiting said district (on the west side of Connecticut river called New Hampshire Grants) and claiming to be an independent state, are hereby required to make full and ample restitution to TIMOTHY CHURCH and others who have been condemned to banishment and confiscation of estate and that they be not molested on their return." Evans, Church and Shattuck returned in December, but on learning that Vermont on the 18th. had re-arrested Col. Church, Shattuck changed his plans, raised two companies and attempted to arrest and hold Col. Benjamin Carpenter, former Lieut. Governor of Vermont, as a hostage for Church. Failing in this he did seize, on the 20th. John Bridgeman, one of the Vermont Judges of the County Court. On Dec. 28, 1782, Timothy Church addressed a letter to His Ex., The Governor and House of Representatives of Vermont, asking for pardon:

"Humbly sheweth, that since your petitioner was sentenced by the Supreme Court of this State to be banished therefrom, quod to return thereto on pain of death, in consequence of said sentence accordingly was banished in the month of September last, notwithstanding your petitioner having intelligence that his family were in a low state of health, as well as under despicable circumstances in regard to the necessaries of life, your Petitioner not in contempt of the authority of the State, but from the tenderfeelings natural from a parent to his children, has imprudently again returned unto this statenow fully sensible of his error....having subscribed to the Freeman's Oath ... having a deep and humbling sense of the vile part he has acted and desert of punishment prays for pardon and forgiveness.."

This prayer was granted in Feb. 1783, notwithstanding which the Guilford Committee wrote that Church would be hanged, if he returned. Governor Clinton by a letter of June 24, 1783, advised Church to call out his regiment and resist the execution of the Vermont laws. Church was again arrested, and on Jan. 10, 1784 imprisoned at Westminster. Free pardon was granted him October 23, 1784.

In the Meeting House Cemetery, Brattleboro, Vermont and almost opposite the farm of 150 acres, whereupon the family lived is still standing a slate stone with the following inscription:

"Col. Timothy Church died Nov. 13, 1823, ae. 86.

He was one of the first settlers of this Town".
Cabot's "Annals of Brattleboro", pg. 52, states:

In 1770 there were 75 "grown men" in Brattleboro and of that number about seventy gave in their names as severally agreeing, etc. to stand by certain measures for maintaining a true gospel minister in town.

The following Church men were in town at that time - Jonathan, living northwest of where the Retreat is.
Timothy, Nathaniel, David, in the neighborhood of Oscar Ware's.
Nathaniel and Eben, Northwest of the Meeting House toward Micopes hill.

Nov. 12, 1770, Timothy, Eber, David, Jonathan, Nathaniel, Malachi, Nathaniel Jr., Benjamin and Bethuel Church were members of a committee to arrange for supplying the pulpit of the church.

In 1782 Nathaniel was in School District #2; William, Josiah and Eber in District #3; Timothy, Jonathan and Ebenezer in District #5.

The 1790 census gives as heads of families in Brattleboro, Jonathan, Malachi, Timothy, Josiah, Eber, Eber Jr. and Reuben.

In list of Rolls and notable estate in 1781, Brattleboro:

Eleazer Church - Polls 1- oxen 2, cows 2, yearlings 2, Valuation 17 los - sheeps wool 15, tow cloth 115, deductions 7 5^s - remainder 10 5^s.

Reuben Church - Polls 1- 1 horse, 4 cows, etc.

Eber Jr. Church - Polls 1- eye...

In 1768 Timothy and Malachi were chosen Overseers of the Highways. Timothy Constable and Collector; Malachi Overseer and Viewer of Fences.

New York State Archives- New York in the Revolution by Berthold Fernow, Vol. I, pg. 277 states: Cumberland County Militia- The Committee of Safety commissioned officers for Cumberland on the 4th. of January, 1776; and the Line officers on Feb. 26.

Timothy Church 2nd. Lieut. Line Officer Brattleborough Company.

Timothy Church, Captain, Brattleboro Co., March 1, 1776.

Feb. 6, 1776 Timothy Church was chosen from Brattleborough as 2nd. Lieut. of the Lower Regiment, confirmed by New York Provincial Congress, March 1.

The Militia of Cumberland County was subsequently divided by the Legislature of New York into the Northern and Southern Regiments and among the officers of the Southern Regiment who received their commissions Aug. 18, 1778 from the Council of Appointment of New York was Captain Timothy Church and 2nd. Lieut. Jonathan Church of Brattleborough. On the 5th. of June and 24th. of July 1782 among the persons chosen as officers of the Southern Regiment was Timothy Church Lt. Col. Comm'd't.

Colonial History of State of New York by Fernow, 1887, pg. 277, states that Jonathan Church was 2nd. Lieut. of a Brattleborough, Vermont Cumberland County Militia, Jan. 4, 1776.

After the Revolution and the Vermont controversy were over the State of New York granted (as shown above) some wild land to the Vermont sufferers to replace that of which they had been robbed and for their fidelity. This land was in what is now Chenango County, and was granted upon the petition of Colonel Timothy Church and associates in 1786. Col. Timothy heads the list of sufferers. Jonathan⁵- Born April 17, 1747, Hadley, Mass., died Norristown, New York Dec. 23, 1827.

Married Perone Whipple at Groton, Conn. in 1770, She was dau. of Samuel Whipple and Eunice (Mitchell) Whipple. She was born April 5, 1752 and died in September, 1817. Her father's will dated Feb. 8, 1774, names wife, Eunice, sons.... and dau. Perone Church. Jonathan Church assisted in establishing American Independence while acting in the capacity of 2nd. Lieut. of Brattleboro Co., 1st. Regt. Cumberland Co., New York Militia. At the time of the Revolution he lived near Brattleboro, Cumberland Co., New York (Vermont at that time not being a state)

According to a record made by his son he went as Orderly in the company of Captain McCuen to Ticonderoga when the Militia of that region made rendezvous to meet Burgoyne's expedition and he took part in the fighting that attended St. Clair's retreat. According to New York Revolutionary Rolls, (New York Archives Vol. I, pg. 277) he was made 2nd. Lieut. Brattleboro Co., First Regt. Cumberland Co. Militia Aug. 18, 1778. From this time on continued alarms kept the Militia on the move and Jonathan was in the field with his company almost continually until the close of the war. He lived after this at Chesterfield, New Hampshire, and the last years of his life were passed with his his son, Daniel W. Church, in Morristown, New York, where he died. Buried at Rossie, New York. In 1914 the Gouverneur Morris Chapter, D.A.R. unveiled a marker in his memory at Rossie, New York. After the war came sickness and continued hardship. His wife, Perone, although sick for many years enjoyed comparatively good health in her old age. She was a woman of superior intelligence and capacity. He was a man of medium size and height, described as good looking, always cheerful, grave and dignified.

The Whipple line was:

John¹, born England, married Sarah.... He served in King Philip's War, 1675-6.

Samuel⁵- Born Jan. 10, 1755, Amherst, Mass. died June 7, 1826.

Married first Sabra Farnum (published Sept. 5, 1790) dau. of Benoni Farnum. She died Nov. 22, 1815.

Married second, Lucretia, widow of Moses Cooley, Apr. 11, 1819. He was a physician in Sunderland, Mass. Hist. of Sunderland by Taft, says: "Dr. Samuel Church graduated at Harvard College in 1778. There was a tradition that he participated in the Battle of Bunker Hill. If, so it may have been while at college. He studied medicine with Dr. Coleman of Amherst, a man of celebrity in those days, and settled in Sunderland between 1780 and 1790. He was a highly respectable physician, a man of much wit and humor and of tenacity of opinion, which sometimes verged toward obstinacy. He is everywhere remembered for ready wit, for witty solemn jokes, for idle conceits and rollicking fun. His retorts never failed. . The fun of a century ago will hardly make us smile but one or two of his efforts are given. Dr. Hunt of Northampton, who kept a drug store there, and from Doctor Church obtained his medicines, was a man of caustic wit. He once called upon Dr. Church for the settlement of a bill in the following words: "Dr. Church, Dear Sir: I am in need of a fat hog, please send it or- Ebenezer Hunt". Dr. Church replied as follows: "Dr. Hunt, Dear Sir: I have no fat hog; and if I had- Samuel Church." Dr. Church for many years held the office of Justice of the Peace, then a distinction in New England society.

Abigail⁵- Born June 10, 1760, died June 23, 1845.

Benjamin was the son of William, born about 1669, and his 2nd. wife Margaret Corey a daughter of Giles Corey who met the most cruel death of any of the innocent victims of the Rev. Cotton Mather and his fellow persecutors during the witchcraft delusion. (See State of Maine Genealogies Vol. I and Perley Family Hist. and Gen. pub. 1906 for Cleaves and Perley families and Conn. Genealogies Vol. II for Putnam Family into which Huldah Perley goes as she was the dau. of Thomas Perley and Eunice (Putnam) Perley.

He was ordained as a Congregational minister June 17, 1789. Excerpt of an address delivered at the dedication of the Town House in Bridgton, Maine, January 8, 1882 by Marshall Cross. Published by Brown Thurston of Portland, Maine. --"Rev. Nathan Church accepted proposal of the Church in 1788 and settled at Bridgton in 1789, having been ordained June 17, 1789, receiving the second right of land, sixty pounds in labor and fifteen pounds in money on settlement and a salary of Forty Five pounds for the first year, to be increased three pounds each year until it amounted to seventy five pounds per year, to be paid one fifth in cash, remainder in beef, pork, corn, rye or labor. They also to deliver him twenty five cords of wood annually." The meeting house was built in 1790. The house built on the right of land granted him stood until about 1944 or 1945, when it was torn down. The early history of the First Congregational Church in Bridgton, Maine, is given as follows in the History of Cumberland Co., Maine, by W. A. Clayton.

The early history of this Church is closely connected with the history of the settlement of Bridgton. In the year 1765 the legislature of Massachusetts confirmed the original grant made to the proprietors of the land, upon condition "that they should build a house for public worship, settle a learned Protestant minister, and lay out 1/64 part of the township for the use of the first settled minister, and one other 64th. part for the support of the minister. "

Owing to unforeseen obstacles the settlement did not advance as rapidly as was anticipated, and not having the means they were unable for many years to comply with these requirements. They had, however, almost from the commencement of the settlement employed a preacher some part of each year, generally from three to five or six months.

On the 20th. of August 1784, the Church was organized by Rev. William Johnson, pastor of the Church in Fryeburg, under the title of the "First Congregational Church", with six male members, etc....

In 1788 the proprietors united with the church in a call to Mr. Nathan Church, a native of South Hadley, educated at Dartmouth College, to become their minister. He came to Bridgton in 1788, and became the first settled minister on the 17th. of June, 1789. Mr. Church was supported by the proprietors till the town was incorporated in 1794, when the inhabitants voted to receive him as their minister and take upon themselves the same obligations that the proprietors were then under with regard to the payment of his annual salary.

In the year 1827 the Rev. Mr. Church retired from his pulpit ministrations on account of age and infirmity."

August 25, and 26, 1934 this church held a Sesquicentennial celebration and all the known descendants of the Rev. Nathan were invited. Those who attended were royally entertained and Oliver Richmond Cook, of Worcester, Mass., a descendant, was toastmaster at the banquet and took the part of Rev. Nathan Church, the first settled minister in an elaborate Pageant "Bridges of Sacred Music". The Pastor at that time, Rev. Stanley C. Sherman gave an historical address on Sunday. The Pageant told, largely in verse, the history of the church and the old time choirs, garbed as they would have been in the years represented, sang, one after the other, the hymns and songs given at that period.

"Memorial Biographies New England Historic Genealogical Society" gives the following: "Samuel, second son of Nathaniel and Lois (Ensign) Church was born Salisbury, Connecticut, Feb. 4, 1785. In Sept. 1799 he was admitted as a Freshman at Yale College, where he graduated in 1803. In 1804 he began the study of law in the office of Honorable Judge Canfield of Sharon, Connecticut, and later at the Litchfield law school. Was admitted to the bar of Litchfield County in 1806. Married Cynthia Newell, dau. of Seth and Esther (Landon) Newell of Salisbury, Conn. She died April 27th., 1853.

Judge Samuel spent the summer of 1807 with his brother in Ohio, with a view of remaining there, and was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of that state at Warren, Trumbull Co. on June 20, 1807, but on account of the frail condition of his wife's health returned to Connecticut, and in 1808 began professional practice at Salisbury, Connecticut.

He educated his half brother Leman, and fitted him for that distinguished career at the Litchfield bar which was so widely extended into eastern New York and western Massachusetts.

In 1818 he was elected a member of the General Assembly and reelected for six sessions afterwards. Was State Senator, elected in 1825 and 1827 by general ticket.

In 1833 he was elected as one of the Judges of the Superior Court of Connecticut and in May of 1847 was appointed Chief Justice. He held the office of Judge of the Supreme Court of Errors for a period of more than 22 years and his written opinions are among the most lucid and learned of American law writings.

He was a member of the Episcopal Church. He died at Newtown, Mass. Sept. 13, 1854, while on a visit to his son-in-law the Rev. Benjamin W. Stone. He left in his journal the following words: "I wish my children and all my relatives and descendants to know that the respective places of honor and trust conferred upon me during my life were thus conferred without any solicitation or effort on my part, and especially that the offices of Associate and Chief Judge of the Supreme Court of Errors were conferred by Legislatures with whose political opinions I did not accord."

Sept. 21, 1828- son of Clarissa Church.

I judge that Leonard became a member of the Church before Emery Wheelock and Andrew Martin were born. In the Encyclopedia of American Biography Vol. XLI (or XII) pg. 147-:

Frank Leonard Church, born Troy, N.Y. Oct. 4, 1870, died Miami, Florida Jan. 6, 1927- son of:

Andrew M. and Jennie (Bush) Church. Andrew M. was a foremost figure in merchandising circles of Troy, N.Y. where he conducted a department store. He was son of:

Leonard and Clarissa (Eaton) Church. Leonard son of Bethuel who located in Salem, N.Y. before the Revolution.

I also have a note:- Andrew Martin was a merchant and lived in Troy and "Mrs. Piser" resides in Shushun"- She may be a daughter.

Harvey, Born 1795, died in infancy. (I have carried down this line from Diadema as have spent a great deal of time attempting to find where her husband, Bethuel Church, belonged, but have failed to place him)

Cynthia Ann (?) born Aug. 23, 1825 . Mar. William Merrill of Philadelphia. Harvey D. Hicks of Fort Ann, N.Y. was her grandson.

Malachi⁶- Born May 14, 1769, died Nov. 29, 1846. (Birth and death dates on family monument, Marathon, N.Y.)

Married Lucy Blakeslee (1768-1842)

Feb. 11, 1785, Malachi Church of Brattleboro Vt., an infant, Upwards of 14 years, elected Timothy Church of Brattleboro as guardian. The "Pioneer History of Cortland Co. (New York) by H.C. Goodwin, 1859 has the following to say about Malachi Church:

"Malachi Church was born in Brattleborough, Vermont, in May 15th. 1769. He enjoyed very limited advantages for literary pursuits, yet by diligent application he acquired a knowledge of the elementary branches which qualified him for the practical duties of the business transactions of public life. A portion of his time, when a young man, was occupied in cultivating the soil and in acquiring a knowledge of the blacksmith's trade. At the age of 22 years he married Lucy Blakeslee, and reared a large family of children, four sons and six daughters. In the winter of 1804-5, he emigrated to the present town of Bainbridge, Chenango Co., New York, and in September of 1805 he removed to that part of the Tioughnioga Valley now included in the town of Marathon, a distance of about forty miles. This journey was accomplished in three days with hard toil. Here he found but a few scattering residents and no reasonable encouragement was presented to the patronage of a mechanic, hence it became necessary, as the means of supporting his family, to engage in agricultural pursuits, in clearing and cultivating the soil. The lands lying in the valley being more feasible of tillage, were first cleared and improved; but gradually as other settlers arrived the contiguous hill lands were taken up, but the process of cutting and burning up the heavy timber and fitting the land for growing crops was a work of severe toil and of slow pl slow progress.

Mills for saving lumber for building, and for grinding grain were greatly needed, but for the want of adequate means none were erected till the year 1810. These structures called into requisition the aid of mechanics. The first frame edifices were erected on the land where Marathon village is now located. . Mr. Church, some ten or twelve years after his arrival here built a frame house and shop on the west side of the river, a few rods from the present railroad depot; where, assisted by his sons, he successfully carried on the blacksmithing business for several years. About the year 1815 Mr. Church was solicited to become a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, and although a large majority of the inhabitants were opposed to his political opinions, yet entertaining a high regard for impartiality, integrity and capacity, his name was presented as the unanimous choice of the people. It will be recollected that all judicial officers at that time were appointed by the Governor, and when a petition was presented for appointment of an individual by constituents known to be favorable to the State administration there could be no hesitancy in complying with the wishes of the petitioners. Mr. Church was accordingly duly appointed and held the office for quite a number of years, discharging the duties thereof with ability equal to the confidence which the public had reposed in him.

In the year 1823 Mr. Church made public profession of religion and became a member of the Baptist Church, and for his zeal in the cause, his talents and christian character, he was soon appointed a Deacon of the church, - an office which he filled with honor to the cause by an exemplary life to the time of his decease, which occurred Nov. 20, 1846, at age of 77 years. His widow survived him a few years. At his death he left four sons and three daughters. These sons were all distinguished for military talent, and each of whom received a Colonel's commission. Three of them also served as Justices of the Peace. His daughters were by marriage, connected with respectable families."

In 1938 Gen. William Church Davis of Berkeley, California loaned me the following will of Malachi to copy. General Davis compiled and published for private distribution "Notes on The Ancestry of Roxanna Brown Davis; his mother, whose mother was Prudence Church Brown.

The Last Will and Testament of Malachi Church of Marathon, in the county of Cortland & State of New York.

I, Malachi Church considering the uncertainty of this mortal life & being of sound mind and memory (Blessed be Almighty God for the same) do make and publish this my last Will & Testament in manner following that is to say:

Item: I give and bequeath all my Real estate to my son William Church on condition that he my said son William shall maintain and comfortably support myself and my beloved wife Lucy Church during our natural lives, and in case my said wife Lucy shall not be comfortably supported after my decease my will is that she shall not only have the use of my said property but shall have power to dispose of or otherwise use said property or so much thereof as shall be necessary for her support.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is not only a scientific one, but also a philosophical one. The scientific aspect of the problem is concerned with the question of how life arose from non-life. The philosophical aspect is concerned with the question of whether life is a necessary part of the universe or whether it is a mere accident.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. These theories are divided into two main classes: the theory of spontaneous generation and the theory of biogenesis. The theory of spontaneous generation is the older of the two and is based on the idea that life can arise from non-life. The theory of biogenesis is the newer of the two and is based on the idea that life can only arise from life.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that there is no evidence in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation and that there is evidence in favor of the theory of biogenesis.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the theory of biogenesis. It is shown that there is no evidence in favor of the theory of biogenesis and that there is evidence in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. These theories are divided into two main classes: the theory of spontaneous generation and the theory of biogenesis. The theory of spontaneous generation is the older of the two and is based on the idea that life can arise from non-life. The theory of biogenesis is the newer of the two and is based on the idea that life can only arise from life.

The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that there is no evidence in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation and that there is evidence in favor of the theory of biogenesis.

The seventh part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the theory of biogenesis. It is shown that there is no evidence in favor of the theory of biogenesis and that there is evidence in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

The eighth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. These theories are divided into two main classes: the theory of spontaneous generation and the theory of biogenesis. The theory of spontaneous generation is the older of the two and is based on the idea that life can arise from non-life. The theory of biogenesis is the newer of the two and is based on the idea that life can only arise from life.

The ninth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the theory of spontaneous generation. It is shown that there is no evidence in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation and that there is evidence in favor of the theory of biogenesis.

The tenth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the theory of biogenesis. It is shown that there is no evidence in favor of the theory of biogenesis and that there is evidence in favor of the theory of spontaneous generation.

Item: I give & bequeath all my personal property including Household Furniture & all other kinds of personal property which I may be possessed of at the time of my decease to my said wife Lucy Church to be at her control & to be disposed of as she my said wife shall think best and proper.

Item: I do hereby constitute and appoint James S. Church & William Squires both of Marathon aforesaid Executors of this my last Will & Testament hereby revoking all former Wills by me made-

In Witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand & seal the eighteenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty. Signed, sealed, published & declared by the above named Malachi Church to be his last Will and Testament in presence of Joseph Wheaton & Cyrus Salisbury both residents of Lisle, Broome County & State of New York & Rufus H. Jennings of Virgil Cortland County & State aforesaid who have at the request of the said Testator hereunto & in his presence subscribed our names as witnesses.

Rehearsal 1922 -

Mr. Davis writes that the above will was never proved, but instead a property settlement was arranged between William Church and the other heirs. The following signatures were affixed to the settlement with his signature at the top and that of William Church, the administrator at the bottom- Malachi Church, , James S. Church, Sarah S. Church, Zenas Thompson, Fatiouce Thompson, Wm. Squires, Lucy Squires, Nelson Church, Franklin Church, Sally A. Church, Abial Brown, Prudence Brown, Wm. Church.

The following must refer to the Oliver Church of this family, a brother of Malachi who, if D. L. Church is correct must have soon after this affidavit was made left for Canada.

Controversy Respecting the New Hampshire Grants.

Riot and Bloodshed in Cumberland County.

City of New Yorks;- Oliver Church of Brattleborough in the county of Cumberland of the age of 19 years, and Joseph Hancock of Hopkinson being duly sworn severally make oath, and said Oliver Church for himself saith that on the Saturday next before the Tuesday on which the last Inferiour Courts of Common Pleas and General Quarter Sessions for the County of Cumberland was to be held he returned home to Brattleborough aforesaid, having been absent about two months, that dependent upon heard it currently reported at Brattleborough that Rioters had threatened they would march in a body to prevent his Majesty's Judges and Justices from opening the said Inferiour Courts. That on the next day after Sunday William Patterson Esquire, High Sheriff of the said County of Cumberland came to Brattleborough and confirmed the said report and desired inhabitants to go with him the next day to Brattleborough, the town where the said Courts were to be held to assist him in keeping the peace and suppressing the Rioters.....

That soon after the said Sheriff sent the Deponent and the Deponent's Father with warrants to collect further assistance..... The Sheriff's party to the number of 4 or 5 fired upon the rioters and killed one besides wounding several others.....

Sworn in Council the 22nd.

Oliver Church
Joseph Hancock.

And the Deponents further say that the pretext for the discontents in the said County of Cumberland, as given out by some is that many persons were sued for debts and were at the same time, unable to recover what is due to them in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay and that they believe a design was formed and entered upon for shutting up the Courts of Justice to prevent those who were in Debt from being prosecuted by their Creditors.

Sworn in Council the 22nd.

Miss Love in a letter in 1917 wrote: "My ancestor was Elijah Church who married Betsey Wentworth. His granddaughter, who is our beloved aunt, is this moment sitting near me. She is 66 years old and the only remaining member of the old family now living. Her name is Julia Carroll Campbell. She remembers vividly her grandmother (Betsey) and grandfather (Elijah) talking of his brother Elisha, whom they familiarly called "Lisher". She also recalls the grandmothers frequent remark of the similarity of the brother's names, "Lisher" and "Liger", meaning of course Elisha and Elijah. The Church family were all steamboat men after quitting soldiery, traversing the great rivers. Wheeling, West Virginia seemed to be their home later. The records of the Lord family note Betsey Wentworth having married Elijah Church, both dying and leaving children in Aberdeen, Ohio. This town was named by our Campbell ancestors for their Scottish home".

The book St. Lawrence and Franklin Counties New York, by Hough, Pub. 1853, pg. 535, has the following to say about Daniel Whipple Church of this family:

Daniel W. Church, whom we have so often mentioned as a pioneer Millwright and to whom we are indebted for many facts relating to the origin of the several towns, was born May 10, 1772 in Brattleboro, Vermont, and moved into the county in 1801, and for many years was actively engaged in erecting the first mills in various parts of this county and Franklin.

In the hardships and labors necessarily involved in these pursuits, there was constantly afforded an opportunity for the exercise of that presence of mind and self reliance which rendered him particularly useful to the country, and during the military operations at Ogdensburg, which terminated with its capture in February, 1813, he was particularly active. He is living at an advanced age, with a son in Morristown.

See his picture and facsimile signature.

Page 422- Parishville was surveyed in the fall of 1809, was formed from Hopkinton March 18, 1814. Daniel W. Church, Supervisor, was one of the first town officers and was again Supervisor in 1814. In 1811 he erected a grist mill for Mr. Parish; in 1813 he erected a "large tavern stand" for the proprietor of the town, costing $12,000.

Moses Babove (or Billings)⁶- Born Amherst, Mass. June 20, 1797, died in Iowa Dec. 23, 1871.

Married Margaret Carey Carter June 11, 1827. She was born in Newburyport, Mass. Sept. 14, 1801, a sister of Samuel Carter of Amherst, who was Amherst Representative in 1841 and 1842. Moses and his twin brother Aaron both graduated from Middlebury College in 1822 and both were ministers. Moses settled in Michigan.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life.

It is generally agreed that the origin of life is one of the most important problems in science. The question is not only of great interest to the general public, but also of great importance to the scientific community. The problem is to determine the conditions under which life first appeared on Earth, and to determine the processes by which life evolved from its primitive state to the complex organisms that we see today.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for the origin of life.

The evidence for the origin of life is of two kinds: direct evidence and indirect evidence. Direct evidence consists of the fossil remains of early life forms, and of the chemical remains of early life forms. Indirect evidence consists of the study of the processes by which life is known to evolve, and of the study of the conditions under which life is known to exist.

Aaron Billings⁶ - Born June 20, 1797, Amherst, Mass. Twin with Moses. died

Married Topliff, dau. of Deacon Topliff of Ellis Calais, (Maine?) The Maine Hist. & Gen. Recorder Vol. 9, pg. 15 under Incidents in the settlement of Dennysville and Edmunds in Washington County has the following about Aaron: About 1826 Rev. Aaron B. Church of Amherst, Mass. came to the settlement on a lumber coaster (Captain Bradford) from "Georgia's River", as he said "to preach 'mongst ye". As Mr. Church's educational advantages had been limited, with personal appearances against him, and an impediment in his speech, his first impressions among the people were anything but favorable. This man, however, remained several years at Dennysville, proving himself an earnest and faithful worker in the cause he espoused, and his numerous friends cherished with sacred regard his worthy name and benevolent acts. Before Mr. Church left the state he married a daughter of Deacon Topliff of Calais. Moses Church, a twin brother of Aaron, came to Dennysville with him, but settled later in Michigan.

Martin⁶ - Born March 15, 1801, died March 12, 1892.

(The following should have been copied under Samuel who married Elizabeth (Betsey) Cowles) From Pioneer Women of the Western Reserve, Brunswick, Medina Co., Ohio - "Betsey Cowles was the wife of Samuel Church, she came with her family from Amherst, Mass. in 1835, was the mother of nine children. She possessed a cheerful disposition; was a lover of poetry, reading and memorizing many poems. She remained active and retained her faculties remarkably to the close of life, dying at the age of 94 years."

from Sanderson, Mass. At Buffalo they took the "Daniel Webster" to Cleveland. The "Michigan", the first steamer on the lakes, raced all the way down. The "Daniel Webster" burned butter and tar and finally took fire, which was only extinguished after hard work. No better idea of the character of Mrs. Church can be given than the beautiful manner in which she cared for a little motherless girl entrusted to her, who, although children of their own came to their home, never received the full measure of a mother's love. Her eldest son, Henry Church is the oldest man living in Chagrin Falls (Ohio) who was born there. Coming with the Churches, and from the same town, were Luther Graves, a nephew of Noah Graves, and his wife. Mr. Graves and Mr. Church were partners as blacksmiths. Among early records are the names of William Church and wife Caroline Torrey Child, died at birth.

Was the dau. of John and Elizabeth (Andrew) Chute, John the son of Curtis and Miriam (Carr Worcester) Chute.

Nathan and wife Miriam in 1840 removed to Naples and assumed the care of the hotel, which had, for about twenty years previous, been kept by his father-in-law, Mr. John Chute. The following are excerpts from an article published in "The Bridgtonians" of Bridgton, Maine Feb. 7, 1873, and headed "The Late Nathan Church of Naples"- "The decease of Mr. Nathan Church of Naples upon the 27th. ult. was last week announced, and has awakened more than ordinary regret among his very numerous friends.The early years of Nathan Church Jr. were spent with his father at the home-stead. In 1823 he married Miss Mary Fowler.....five years later she died.... In 1829 Mr. Church married Miss Miriam Chute, dau. of John Chute of Naples. Somewhat later he engaged in trade, doing business in a store, which has since been removed..... In April 1840 he removed to Naples where he assumed care of the hotel..... He there resided until the time of his death.....during the last fifteen or twenty years his house has become a favorite resort of summer boarders..... Mr. Church was a man of very fine qualities. As a husband and father he was singularly affectionate and tenderly indulgent.... He was an earnest and consistent friend of moral reform and ready for almost every good word and deed work.

When he first engaged in trade, in accordance with a custom nearly, or quite universal at that time, he kept intoxicating drinks for the accommodation of his customers. Soon observing their deplorable effects, however, he opened his casks, and allowed his liquors to go where they could do no harm.

It was as an inn keeper that Mr. Church was most widely known, and will be by most remembered. The Inn which for a generation has borne his name has become known far and wide, not more widely than favorably. Under the care of Mr. Church and his excellent wife, who was a genuine Lady Bountiful, it had acquired a high character and Mr. and Mrs. Church proved themselves in every way worthy to succeed them..... The hotel was named "The Elms" because an enormous elm tree, said to be largest in Maine, stood in front of the buildings.

Uriah⁶- Born April 30, 1783/5, died May 14, 1851, Middlefield, Mass. Married Phoebe Mack Jan. 11, 1810, dau. Deacon David and Mary (Talcott) Mack. Uriah represented the town of Middlefield, Mass. in the legislature of 1806-8. He was one of the pioneers in the woolen manufacturing business, establishing the firm of U. Church and sons at Factory Village, manufacturing the famous "Mountain Mills Gold Band" broadcloth. In his younger days he taught district school. Lyman Coleman, a man of broad education, once remarked that Uriah Church was the best teacher he ever had. Mr. Church was Justice of the Peace, a student of the revised statutes and well versed in law questions as well as in the politics of the day. He represented the town in the General Court in 1845, per Hist. of Middlefield. The Mack Genealogy says: Uriah Church who married Phoebe Mack was a manufacturer of woolen goods and supplied to some extent the government with goods during the war of 1812. The spinning, weaving and dyeing were at first done at the homestead located about two miles from the "carding machine" which was in the "Hollow". From small beginnings the business increased, new machinery was put in operation, and the whole process of making cloth was, in due time, carried on in what was known in later years as "the old factory". Increasing business demanded a new building which was erected in 1823. This was attended with disaster, quite disheartening, but in due time was filled with machinery....The spinning jenny and loom were worked by ~~manpower~~ hand power and mostly by men of foreign birth. Woolen broadcloths of various shades were the chief products. In the year 1847, another three story mill was erected. It compared well with the other or "upper mill" in its capacity and was designed for carrying on every branch of the business. About this time black broadcloths with cotton warp were made a specialty and by superior skill they were made so as to command the highest price in the New York and Boston markets. After his death the business was continued under the name of S.U. Church Bros. For several years the business yielded only a small profit, but during and subsequent to the Civil War the demand for this style of goods increased and prices advanced. Serious drawbacks in the business were felt by the firm in the burning of their upper mill and afterwards by the great freshet of 1874, but they were overcome and a new and much better mill erected on the site of the one destroyed. After the death of S.U. Church, Oliver Church took the property and later sold it. At the present time it is used for crushing quartz. (This book was printed in 1903.)

Captain James⁶- Born July 18, 1787/8, died April 12, 1874, Middlefield, Mass.

Delaware Church, da. of Uiah & Martha Cemetery (Cemetery)
M. 1819 Isaac Lemmon's Miller, of Hailstone, Conn
She died 1868 in Greenwell, Michigan & they both are buried in the Greenwell Cemetery. I took pictures of these well preserved stones in May 1961

In May 1963 I photographed Uiah & Martha's tombstones at Lee Cemetery, near Sandy, Conn. Uiah was very right and in good condition, but Uiah's was broken in half, but we could find Make and the name Uiah

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry must be supported by a valid receipt or invoice, and that the books should be balanced at the end of each month.

2. The second part of the document outlines the procedures for handling cash payments and receipts. It states that all cash received should be deposited in the company bank account immediately, and that cash payments should be made by check or through the bank to ensure proper documentation.

3. The third part of the document describes the process for recording sales and purchases. It requires that all sales be recorded at the time of the transaction, and that purchases be recorded when the goods are received. It also mentions the need to keep track of inventory levels and the cost of goods sold.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of reconciling the company's books with the bank statements. It advises that this should be done at least once a month to identify any discrepancies and correct them promptly.

5. The fifth part of the document provides guidelines for the preparation of financial statements. It states that the balance sheet, income statement, and statement of cash flows should be prepared at the end of each fiscal year, and that they should be reviewed by a qualified professional to ensure their accuracy.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the role of the accounting department in providing information to management. It highlights the importance of timely and accurate financial data for making informed business decisions.

7. The seventh part of the document outlines the responsibilities of the accounting staff. It includes tasks such as maintaining the general ledger, processing payroll, and managing accounts payable and receivable.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It suggests implementing measures such as segregation of duties, authorization requirements, and regular audits to prevent fraud and errors.

9. The ninth part of the document provides a summary of the key points discussed in the document. It reiterates the importance of accuracy, timeliness, and proper documentation in all accounting activities.

10. The tenth part of the document concludes with a statement of the company's commitment to high standards of accounting and financial reporting. It expresses confidence in the accounting department's ability to provide reliable and useful financial information.

- "Frederick Edwin Church, Artist,- Early in life he placed himself under the tutelage of Thomas Cole, R.A..... He soon became well known as a landscape painter. Spent a short time in Switzerland and in 1853 visited South America. His "View of Niagara Falls" won a prize at the French Exhibition of 1867 and is now in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington, D.C.. The Gallery paid $12,000 for this picture. (It was exhibited at the Panama Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915). He spent three years in the selection of his picturesque estate on the Hudson, and finally succeeded in satisfying his artistic eye. The magnificent Chateau which adorns the romantic environment of Hudson,

Columbia County, is one of the most elegant of the many handsome residences that add so much to the glory of the Rhine of America. Some of his important paintings are: "Iceburgs", "Rainy Season in the Tropics", "Damascus" and "Evening on the Sea". "It is related of Church that during the summer he spent at Niagara he painted very little. He passed many days there, not busily sketching all the time, but wandering about with his eyes and his heart brooding on the cataract, sitting sometimes for hours, studying the shifting splendors of the spectacle; and having made his sketches, came home, and in two months of devotion produced this picture."

Early in life George learned the business of smelting pig-iron and became connected with the Richmond Iron Works at Van Deusenville, Mass.. Eventually he became one of the best known experts in the manufacture of charcoal pig-iron in the country, and associated with John H. and George Coffing, he became an owner in the company.... In 1861 Col. Church became identified with the Monument cotton mills at Housatonic which, largely through his management and business ability, became the largest manufacturers of bed quilts in the U.S..... His next enterprise was the incorporation of the Ramapo Wheel Foundry Co., and the Ramapo Iron Works at Hillburn, N.Y., of both of which he took the presidency and treasurership. He was a director in the Stanley Instrument Co., the National Mahaiwe Bank, the Berkshire Railroad Co., and President of the Great Barrington Savings Bank. He served one term as a member of the Conn. Legislature and three years as Selectman of the town of Great Barrington. Was a member of the notable War Board, 1861 to 1863. Was a Free Mason of Cincinnati Lodge, and a charter member of Monument Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. During the last 20 years of his life he also conducted the business of the Berkshire Glass and Sand Co. of which he was president and treasurer.

Children of Josiah⁶, Eber⁵, Nathaniel⁴, Samuel³, Samuel², Richard¹ and Comfort (.....) Church.

References:- Mrs. Wilbur H. Moore, Curwinstown, Pa. and deeds and wills she had copied in N.Y. It is known that this couple removed from Vermont in an early day to Jericho, N.Y., later called Bainbridge. Three children Henry, William and John are named in deeds as children of Josiah and Comfort but no specific birth dates are given for them. The other children were long supposed to belong to this family because of numerous deeds given between them, but no proof could be found until birth record of Francis was found in 1941, as shown under his name. As family records and a booklet written by Jeremiah show that the other six were brothers and sisters that one baptismal record ties them all into the family. The booklet is titled "Journal of Jerry Church" and was issued in 1845, reprinted in 1933 by the Aurand Press, Harrisburg, Penn. The book speaks of four brothers and one sister all having left the home in New York. It did not give names of parents of Jeremiah (Jerry) however, but named brothers and sister. Also mentioned sisters so there may be another daughter. Tentative birth dates are given for those not known, according to whether Jerry mentioned them as older or younger than himself and presupposing that Henry, William and John who remained in New York near the homestead were among the eldest, and taking 21 years as a basis for their ages when giving deeds.

Mrs. Wilbur H. Moore, deceased in 1942, of Curwinstown, Penn. spent a great deal of time and money in the search for her ancestress and brothers, and parents of these known brothers and was finally rewarded. She had countless deeds and wills copied in N.Y.

William⁷- Born perhaps 1786 as gave a deed in 1812. Died He was a merchant, who later became Post Master of Coventry, N.Y. serving many years. His son, Charles Church finished the unexpired term of his father at his death.

Married first Betsey Ann.....who died May 15, 1842, Coventry, age 35.

Married 2nd. Elizabeth Deeds were signed by Elizabeth and William after those signed by Betsey Ann and William, quite evidently the same William, who was living in 1840 per deeds.

Robert R.⁷- Born in late 1700's per Mrs. Moore's records, say 1788. Died July 21, 1846 per Orphan's Court records, Cumberland Co. Penn. Married Catherine Bigler in New Cumberland, Cumberland Co. Penn. 10 children.

Henry⁷- Born perhaps 1790-1 as gave deed in 1812. Died Married Mary (Polly)before 1815 as they gave deed at that time. Henry was a farmer who seemed to look after the interests of his parents. Records of Norwich, N.Y. Book L-339-deed dated 1815, between Henry Church of Coventry and Mary his wife of first part and Francis Church of same place, of 2nd part, 100 acres land for $1,050. Signed Henry Church- Mary Church. Also Book V.-154-Deed between Henry and his mother Comfort Church.

John⁷- Born perhaps 1792 as he gave deed in 1812. Died without issue, father named heir, 1815.

Francis⁷- Born- Baptised June 15, 1794 in Congregational Church of Ciliola of Jericho, pages 26, 27 of their records. "Administration of the Ordinance of Baptism, Lord's Day June 15, 1794 also, son of Mrs. Comfort Church (wife of Mr. Josiah Church) named Francis.

she being a member of the Church of Brattleboro in full communion, and as such in good regular standing. Recommended verbally by her father-in-law, Mr. Eber Church, one of the Deacons in the Church. "

Married Mary or Maria before 1819, as they made a deed in that year. He travelled some with Jeremiah, finally going to Missouri, where he settled.

Jeremiah⁷- Born Jericho, New York, 1796. Died Carlisle, Iowa Nov. 1, 1874. Buried there. He founded that town in 1851 and made his home there for the remainder of his life, which from his autobiography, had been a most colorful one.

Married Early family tradition has it that she was born and raised in Virginia. Mr. Emmett E. Hull of Carlisle, Iowa, a grandson, wrote Mrs. Moore in 1941: "Jeremiah Church was born in the year 1796. He died Nov. 1, 1874 in Carlisle, Iowa, and is buried there. He founded the town of Dudley, Iowa, on the Des Moines river in 1846, and in 1851 the town of Carlisle. We have no record of his wife, but from early family tradition believe she was born and raised in Virginia. I have been told by early settlers that he brought my mother, Margaret Church, his daughter, to the town of Dudley, Iowa, on horseback, when she was a small child." The Iowa State Library wrote Mrs. Moore that Jeremiah Church was one of the best known and most prominent of the early settlers of Polk Co., Iowa. They called him "Uncle Jerry". He drifted in with the tide of land seekers in 1845. He came from Lock Haven, Penn., where he had secured some wealth in land dealings. He was an active, energetic, enterprising man, got along well with the Indians, who were there in great numbers. In 1851 the town of Dudley which he had laid out was washed away by a flood. Jerry climbed up on top of one of the buildings which held fast and played their requiem on his fiddle. They say it was here that Dr. William Sproul Hull and wife Margaret (Church) Hull lived and reared their family and where Jerry Church, father of Mrs. Hull, spent his last years. The grandson states that Jeremiah pioneered a claim in Nebraska in the latter years of his life, spending his summers in Nebraska, winters with his daughter and family.

Jesse⁷- Born about 1798. Died about spring of 1830. Merchant in Chenango Co., New York. For two years prior to his death he and Jeremiah had a general store in Colesville, Broome Co., N.Y.. Colesville is now known as Harpursville, and is just two miles from the old cemetery in which rests the body of Timothy Church Jr.

Alonzo⁷- Born April 9, 1793 Brattleboro, Vt. Died May 18, 1862, Athens, Georgia.

Married Sarah Jane Trippe, dau. of John and Elizabeth (Hunt) Trippe, of Putnam Co., Georgia, December 16, 1817. (15 children)
 Alonzo entered Middlebury College at an early age and graduated in 1816. Having weak lungs he emigrated to Georgia and established a classical school in Putnam in 1818, which soon became famous. He joined the Presbyterian Church, and was ordained a minister of that denomination in 1824, but never had a regular pastoral charge, giving his services to the poorer churches near Athens. He was elected Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy at Franklin College in 1819, and went to live at Athens, Georgia. Was chosen president of the college upon the resignation of Dr. Fadell. He resigned in 1859 on account of poor health, having served thirty years as president. Mr. Church spent a long life in the service of his adopted state and it is safe to say no man in Georgia was ever more loved and honored. The following letter from him was copied by Mrs. Helen J. Eddy Thomas, daughter of Elvira R. (Church) Eddy, to whom it was written.

"Athens, Georgia, Sept. 9th., 1853.

My Dear Niece:

You ought to be punished and I am determined to inflict it upon you. I wrote a long time since & your "gude" man gave an answer but said that I might expect in due time one from your dear self. Now I write to know what you consider due time over in Bennington, as we used to say in Brattleboro. I conclude that due time is no time with you. I am old and feeble and my nieces ought not to require letter for letter, and yet if they have any requirements at all it is letter without letter, that's not "zaxly" right, as our Africans say & as I hope you will say. But leaving levity aside, I have been very anxious to know a little more of you & yours & I think you could very easily gratify me by an epistle. As I said above, I am old and infirm, more than sixty years have passed upon me & much hard labor and many an anxious care have pressed me down, still I am not very gray and can do much service in my office. I rise every morning before the sun & go at sun-rise to the college to attend prayers with the young men. I usually have a recitation of an hour long, after sun-rise prayers, then return and have our family prayers, then our frugal meal. We live frugally, if you don't believe it, just come and see & we will give you painful proof. At half past eight our students go to their rooms to study & I to my business connected with the institution. At eleven A.M. they go to recitation & I have a class for an hour. At twelve I return home & read and lounge until about half past one & then take another frugal meal. Shall I tell you what has been that meal in a large degree from middle of June until first of September? light bread and peaches and milk, when I could not get cream. We have a fine peach orchard of very fine fruit & I luxurate upon them while they last, which is about the period I have mentioned.

We have planted and cultivated our orchard and have taken pains to have the choicest fruit & that which will ripen at different periods. I wish you could have seen our orchard this summer at one time. It was very rich to look upon & not alone good for the eye, for a long time bushels were daily carried to the hogs. Our season has been peculiar, hot and dry in the extreme till July. At one period we thought it impossible that we could make any corn (which is our principal grain) & yet the later rains have brought out enough we think for all our citizens. God has been better to us than our fears & far, far better than our deserts. Today even it is hot and the thermometer up to summer heat. We have no had much sickness in our part of the country, some dysentery and occasional typhoid fever, very much such as you have in the mountains of Vermont.

We have with us one of our married daughters who resides in Florida. She has six children. Two others have each two and one has one, so that we have eleven grand children, though you will probably say "of the glory of old men". Two of our daughters are widows. The husband of one, Col. Craig of U.S.A. was killed last June year by two deserters in California. He was with the Boundary Commission. The husband of the other had been sick for some years, and finally died about eighteen months since. Two others are married and live in Florida, one near Tallahassee, she is here now, & the other sixty miles east of Tallahassee. The husbands of the last two are Planters. We have one other daughter about sixteen who goes to school. We have three sons, the eldest 24, now a tutor in college, but at the end of the year expects to go into his profession, the law. The second has been through college, and is now at West Point Military Academy, where he has entered the third year. He left us a few days since, having made us a visit, after an absence of two years. His name is John Reuben. Our youngest child is a little boy about eleven years old. Here you have the whole tribe patriarch and all.

Now I told you I would inflict upon you some of the punishment which you deserve & if this chastisement doesn't produce a proper effect upon you, a minute description of every grand child & perhaps some of their uncles and aunts will follow.

Your aunt is in her usual health and bears her age very well. She often speaks of you and your sisters, whom she saw when you were small. Write, my dear niece, and do not be afraid of using your paper and ink. To you I suppose it come cheap as I apprehend your stationer does not charge you more than cost. With kindest regards to Mr. A. I am very sincerely, your affectionate uncle A. Church".

And in January of 1918 Mrs. Thomas wrote from Bennington, Vt. that she had copied the above letter as it mentioned John Reuben, and that she had four others, and copied interesting excerpts from them, as follows: In one he said they had had 15 children, "eight living and seven in the other world". In one written in 1842, soon after her mother's marriage, he said: "As another advice let me entreat you never to go in debt. Begin life aright and all will be well. Suffer inconveniences rather than be in debt, one of the sorest inconveniences of life".... "How could I write you as an uncle, professing to be a minister of the gospel, without asking whether you be prepared for the blessedness of a better world.....All things will work for good to those who love God.....You are commencing life- permit an uncle to advise you, never, never, forget that your happiness individually will greatly depend upon making each other happy. I am convinced that no one in a married life can be happy except in making their partner happy. Never, then, my niece, as you value your own peace do anything in word or deed, or look, which will give your husband pain, and as far as in your power, never fail to do anything which will give him pleasure, and what I say to you, I say to him. If you think not alike on all subjects, never entertain unpleasant feelings toward each other for this cause. You smile now at this advice while enjoying your honeymoon & think that old, ill-natured uncle believes us as crabbed as himself. Not quite so bad, I hope, but we are all imperfect and caution is the parent of safety."

The following is copied from Family Bible in possession of Mr. Walter E. Church, Schenectady, N.Y. copied by Mr. Church in 1926 and carefully compared. The Bible belonged to Timothy Church Jr.⁶, son of Col. Timothy⁵ of Brattleborough, Vt. and New York.

On Nov. 18, 1926 Mr. Church wrote his niece Mrs. Beulah D. Reed, Anoka, Minnesota as follows:

My Dear Niece Beulah:-I am unable to get a satisfactory photo copy of the old Bible record, partly owing to lack of proper instruments by any photographer here and partly owing to the dimness of the writing in the old records. It is with difficulty that some of it can be deciphered, so I decided to copy it by hand and herewith inclose same. I believe it to be a correct copy of all in the old Bible records as I have checked it over carefully.....

You will notice that children of Frances A. includes Walter, Ellen and Willie, he being born after they went to Michigan. I have tried to locate him through the Pennells (he being uncle to Marjorie P.) but so far have not succeeded. After Frances A. died Goodman went further west, into Arizona or somewhere, taking Willie with him, and the Pennells rather lost track of him after Goodman died. I understand from some source that he had married and raised a considerable family.

Father (Ezra Pratt Church) was in Albany as a member of Assembly in year 1848. I have a diagram of the Assembly Chamber and it shows seat 13 as "Church, Chenango (County)". Guess he was not superstitious. He was Supervisor of the town of Bainbridge 2 years, Auditor 10 years and Justice of the Peace more than forty years until debarred from office by age limit.

George and Charles were both volunteers in War of 1860. George died of wounds received at Fair Oaks, Va.. Charles wounded in Grant's Battle of Wilderness. Taken prisoner by rebels, died in Andersonville Ga. rebel prison.....I will stop now, with love. Uncle Walt. Mr. Church died March 11, 1944.

Married Cordelia Augusta Hasty November 10, 1862, Portland, Maine.

Shewas born Portland, Maine, January 25, 1839, daughter of Nathaniel and Eunice (Bond) Hasty. Died Los Angeles, California, December 28, 1924 at the home of her daughter Alice M. Church.

Elizabeth Andrew⁷ - Born January 16, 1840, Died August 29, 1840.

Nathan Andrew⁷ - Born March 6, 1844, Naples, Maine. Died January 21, 1908, Minneapolis, Minnesota of Pneumonia, followed by blood poisoning. Buried in Layman's cemetery, Minneapolis.

Married 1st. Marilla H. Cole, born in Standish, Maine 1846 and died in Malden, Mass. Oct. 7, 1891 and buried in family plot in Naples, Maine.

Married 2nd. Mrs. Lulu Millfrord, in 1894. (1 child by 1st. Mar.)

Nathan was installed Master of Naples Grange No. 94 January 13, 1875.

On May 16, 1864 John Marshall above was appointed Enrolling officer for the township of Naples. Previous to this time he had wanted to enlist but his parents (who owned and managed The Elms, Hotel or as it was called The Old Church Tavern) were getting along in years and kept urging him not to do so, saying that they needed him at home. However, on September 21st. 1864 he was drafted and served in the Maine Volunteers, at Camp Berry, Portland. December 14, 1864 he was discharged "by reason of furnishing a substitute." He is described in the discharge as being "five feet seven inches tall, dark complexion, hazel eyes and dark hair". During his short service he was stationed in the Provost Marshall's office in Portland, and had many narrow escapes from death at the hands of deserters whom he hunted in the lowest saloons of the city. He did not serve during a battle and always seemed to feel he had not been a soldier. Would never join any of their organizations.

Feb. 13, 1863 he was appointed Trial Justice for Cumberland Co. Maine for a term of seven years. In 1872, he with a partner purchased the stage line running from Portland to Naples.

In a letter from the Rev. George Fodge of Boston to Alice M. Church a daughter, he said; in 1911, speaking of her grandparents and their family; "These were your relatives and they were fine. Naples has become now a summer resort and in the season I go down, for some ten years now, to open the old Church, "Union Church" which these people helped to build, and sacrificed so long to support. "

After the death of his father John Marshall became dissatisfied with the results of his work in Maine. Nathan, the younger brother took over the hotel and property, agreeing to take care of Mary, the invalid sister, and John and family moved to Elsie, Michigan, in the fall of 1874. in 1878 made the move to St. Louis, Mich.

THE HISTORY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON

The city of Boston, situated on a neck of land between the harbor and the bay, has a history of more than three centuries. It was first settled by Englishmen in 1630, and has since that time been a center of commerce and industry. The city has grown from a small fishing village to a metropolis of over a million inhabitants. It has been the seat of many important events in the history of the United States, and has played a prominent part in the development of the nation. The city is known for its many historic landmarks, including the Old State House, the Faneuil Hall, and the Boston Common. It is also famous for its many museums, libraries, and universities. The city is a beautiful and vibrant place, and is one of the most important cities in the world.

where he built a mill and put in machinery for sawing clapboards, later adding machinery to make it a custom saw and planing mill. After several years sold the mill and went into the grocery business with a partner, which business he continued until his death. In 1883 he was appointed Postmaster at St. Louis to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of former postmaster. Continued in office until November of 1885 when a change in national politics made a change in the post office and a Democrat was appointed.

"Dr. Jefferson graduated as a physician from Pittsfield Medical College in 1825, began practice in Peru, Mass. 1826 and a year later moved to Springfield, Mass. In company with Dr. Seeger he edited and published "Tulley's Materia Medica". Identified himself with the anti-slavery cause, which action, in the early years of its agitation made him unpopular with the people and religious element of that town. He stood almost alone in this position and firmly bore the brunt of many attacks from pulpit and press. His home was always open to those who sympathized with the cause against slavery and many of the leaders of the movement made his house their headquarters. He was an intimate friend of John Brown, who visited him in Springfield in 1846. They agreed on the heinousness of slavery, but while Brown was for open fight, the Dr. grew to be a strong Wendel Phillips sort of an Abolitionist. He was always a friend to the oppressed, and many of them through his generosity found their way to Canada by the Underground Road."

Mack Gen. pg. 480 says of him: "William Fuller Church remained at home during his younger days and worked in his father's factory having few holidays and few amusements, the principal and perhaps the only ones were Fourth of July, Training days and Thanksgiving. He began to think about learning to do something more agreeable and concluded that to become a merchant would suit him better than any trade or profession. After sundry efforts he obtained a situation in the store of his uncle, David Mack, Amherst, Mass. where he remained six years, during that time uniting with the Congregational Church.....In 1840 he was induced to take a position as book-keeper in a wholesale importing house in New York City. ... After two years he was induced to "go west" locating first in Elyria, Ohio, but in 1849 locating in Cincinnati, where for more than forty years he was in active business where he built up for himself a reputation as a clear minded, conscientious business man and upright citizen.

As an evidence of the confidence which he inspired, it may be stated that in 1872, without his knowledge that his name had been mentioned for the office, he was appointed by Governor Hoyer as State Commissioner of Insurance for Ohio, when he organized the department of insurance for the state, and for several years administered the duties of that office.....

In 1867 he was one of the party who accompanied Mark Twain on that famous trip around the world which resulted in the publication of "Innocents Abroad". On board the steamer Quaker City he visited a large number of places of interest in Europe, Asia, Africa, Egypt and the Holy Land. He was a man highly esteemed and respected. (No children)

Boston Evening Transcript of Jan. 5, 1916 in an article about the Henry E. Huntington Library at San Marino, near Pasadena, California, written by George H. Sargent stated: "Until comparatively a few years ago the name of Henry E. Huntington was not well known in book collecting circles. When the library of the late E. Dwight Church of Brooklyn was put upon the market, George D. Smith, a rare book dealer in New York, conceived the idea of buying it and dividing its treasures among a half dozen men who would put up the $1,250,000 needed to complete the purchase. One of the men approached was Mr. Huntington. The street railway magnate of the Pacific Coast said: "Why not buy it all?" Mr. Smith acquiesced, and the great Church collection, which had already been cataloged in seven volumes, passed to Mr. Huntington as a whole and, despite reports to the contrary, he has the collection intact, not a single item having been sold to anyone else."

TO THE EDITOR:
I am writing to you to inform you of the results of my research on the properties of the new material which I have discovered. The material has been found to have a number of interesting properties, including a high degree of stability and a unique ability to absorb and release energy. I am currently working on a series of experiments to further investigate these properties and to determine the potential applications of this material.

The results of my research have been very promising, and I believe that this material has the potential to revolutionize a number of different fields, including energy storage, materials science, and environmental science. I am currently working on a series of experiments to further investigate these properties and to determine the potential applications of this material. I am also working on a series of experiments to determine the potential applications of this material in the field of energy storage.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The history of the United States of America is a story of growth and development. It begins with the first settlers who came to the continent in search of a new home. These settlers, known as the Pilgrims, established the first permanent English colony in 1620. Over the years, more and more people came to the United States, and the country grew in size and population.

The United States has a long and rich history. It has been a land of freedom and opportunity for many people. The country has grown from a small colony to a great nation. It has fought many wars, but it has always emerged stronger and more united. The United States is a land of hope and dreams, and it is a land that has inspired people all over the world.

The United States is a land of many different people. There are many different cultures and languages spoken in the United States. This makes the United States a unique and special place. The United States is a land of opportunity for everyone. No matter what your background or where you are from, you can find a place in the United States. The United States is a land that welcomes everyone and offers everyone a chance to start a new life.

The United States is a land of freedom. Everyone has the right to live their life as they see fit. No one should be able to tell you how to live or what to think. The United States is a land where everyone is free to express their opinions and beliefs. This is one of the things that makes the United States so special. It is a land where everyone is treated equally and with respect.

The United States is a land of progress. The country has always been at the forefront of innovation and discovery. From the first settlers to the present day, the United States has been a land of firsts. The United States has led the world in many different ways, and it continues to lead the world today. The United States is a land that is always moving forward and always striving for a better future.

The United States is a land of hope. No matter what the future holds, the United States will always be a land of hope and opportunity. The United States is a land that believes in a better tomorrow. The United States is a land that is always working to make the world a better place. The United States is a land that is always striving for a better future for everyone.

The United States is a land of many different people, but it is a land that is united by a common purpose. The United States is a land that believes in freedom, progress, and hope. The United States is a land that is always striving for a better future for everyone. The United States is a land that is always working to make the world a better place. The United States is a land that is always striving for a better future for everyone.

The Book of Biographies states: Portrait on pg. 66- Deville Corbin Church was one of the most prominent and public spirited citizens that ever lived in the village of Afton.....Throughout his long and prosperous career his name was a synonym of financial integrity.....was a member of the private banking firm of E.M.
 Johnston & Co., which has become since his decease Church & Hill. All his ventures were remunerative, for he directed them with superior judgment.....He took an especially deep interest in educational affairs.....was directly instrumental in securing the Afton Union School, which was one of the very first in Central New York.....Son of Levi and Ella (Works) Church, and was born on the old Church homestead in Afton Township, which was formerly a part of Bainbridge, on the western side of the Susquehanna river. He died in Afton January 12, 1894....

In 1851 he went to Eldorado County California, and still later located in Placer County in the mining district. He engaged in mining for the first time in the "dry diggings" below Auburn, and then went on American river to Rattle Snake Bar, a mining town of 1,000 inhabitants, there he became a very successful mining operator, also made money in the blacksmithing business.

He returned to New York State in 1854. Did not remain at home long, but went to Iowa, where he engaged in civil engineering, locating and preempting claims for himself and others. In 1866 he once more returned to Chenango Co. this time to stay.
 He bought a portion of the homestead and farmed on it until 1866, when he sold and moved to Afton. He engaged in lumbering business, the manufacture of firkins etc., prosecuted his profession of a civil engineer and surveyor, and in 1876 with GUTLEBEN FAMILY.

Origin of the name given by John Simon Gutleben, born Dec. 17, 1876, son of John and Frederique Madelen (Helmettetter) Gutleben. He says;

"I noticed just recently in my Birthday book that grandmother Gutleben signed her name "Catherina Braesch Guthleben". The h after the t in our name occurs a number of times in old documents that father had. "Gut" of course means good and "Guth" in German means property. It takes guth goods to live good and as the Gutlebens or good livers owned much of the fertile valley and of the green mountain slopes, that probably explains the origin of the name."

Fredericka Salome Gutleben, sister of John Simon above, says: "Father's father, Named John, had one brother named Mathis. The great and great great grandfather's names were also John and he had a brother named Theobald."

Starting with the family of the grandfather of the children of John and Frederique Madelen Gutleben:

Children of John andGutleben.

John- Born

Married Catherina Braesch. She later signed her name Catherina Braesch Guthleben. Born about 1834, died about 1903. When John Simon Gutleben was in Europe in 1900 he visited his grandmother and in letter to his brother in 1936 he says of her- "She hiked with me to Metzeral (the last town in the Munster Valley, then just across the French boundary). It was two miles up a steep incline and grandmother, as was the custom, wore heavy wooden shoes, which were clanging on the cobblestone pavement and echoed loudly against the houses as we passed through the narrow village streets, yet the vigorous little peasant woman, in spite of her 86 years, did not show any shortness of breath in the four mile hike. No person I ever met impressed me as she did. There was such a warmth about her personality that I felt happy and at peace with the whole world in her presence. A minister in one of the towns of the Munster Valley said to me, "That little old lady is a tower of strength throughout the valley.". At Colmar a teacher said to me, "What a wonderful mother your father has, a faith of adamant speaks from her wrinkled face. The love of God radiates from her eyes."

Mathis- Born Died about 1902.

Married Anna May.

Children of John and Catherina(Braesch) Gutleben.

Rev. John- Born June 29, 1847 or July 19, 1847, at Muhlbach, Alsace Lorraine. Died July 23, 1923, Oakland, California.

Married Frederique Madelen Helmettetter, born July 29, 1841 in Pfaffenhofen, Unter Alsace. Died December 17, 1908, Oakland, California. She was daughter of Jacob and Catherine Salomea (Gerst) Helmstetter.

John Simon says of his father: "Said a monister to me at Munster, "all over the mountains I still run across the footsteps of your father. When I visit isolated villages far up in the Vosages and am received with unusual cordiality, Invariably I trace the unexpected spiritual life to the youthful enthusiasm and influence of your father."

John and wife and family emigrated to the United States in 1882, leaving their native land on the ship Canada in September of that year. They settled in Fontanelle, Nebraska, where Mr. Gutleben took a charge as minister of the German Lutheran Church.

Fredericka Salome furnished the following about her father: When 19 years of age he entered St. Chrischone, near Basel, Switzerland hoping to prepare himself for Mission work in China. After four years he was graduated and assigned to evangelical work in Canton Granbandeu. After twelve years of service among the mountaineers he came to America with his wife and six children, joined the Nebraska Synod and helped to organize the German Nebraska Synod. Moved to California in 1905 and retired from active ministry in 1911.

Martin- Born 1880. Lived in Lincoln, Nebraska 1937.

Married Catherine Barbara Tritch.

Catherine- Born 1852. Died March 9, 1926.

Married Matheas Brash. 2 daughters living in 1937- one Anna

May Ekazh Brash married her cousin Mathis Jagle in 1900.

Children of John and Frederique Madelen (Helmstetter)Gutleben. all born in Colmar, Alsace Loraine except C.T. and Elizabeth.

THE HISTORY OF

THE CITY OF BOSTON

1. The first settlement in Boston was made in 1630 by a group of Puritan settlers from England. They came to the city in search of religious freedom and a place to practice their faith. The city was founded on a small island in the harbor, and the settlers built a fort to protect themselves from the Native Americans.
2. The city grew rapidly in the years following its founding. By 1640, the population had reached over 1,000 people. The city was a center of trade and commerce, and its harbor was one of the busiest in the world. The city was also a center of education and culture, and it was here that many of the great minds of the American Revolution were born.
3. The city was a center of the American Revolution. It was here that the first shots of the war were fired, and it was here that the British were defeated in the Battle of Bunker's Hill. The city was a center of the war effort, and it was here that many of the great leaders of the Revolution were born.

Following is copy of a letter written to the Plant magazine of the Spreckles Sugar Co., Spreckles, California, where he was employed when called to service in the army, "The Honey Dew News".

Edmonton, Canada; June 13, 1945.

After spending about three and a half years in Post Engineer work at Fort McDowell, Fort Mason and Camp Knight, all in the San Francisco Bay area under the San Francisco Port of Embarkation, I received orders to the Northwest Service Command with Headquarters at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, Canada. I was first sent to Headquarters, Seventh Service Command in Omaha for training, during which time I made trips to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and Fitzsimmons General Hospital in Denver. I left there about the middle of April and had a ten day delay enroute to San Francisco.

I headed north the day after the United Nations Conference got underway and travelled by train to Seattle, Vancouver, and finally Edmonton, Alberta. There I drew my Arctic issue, including a parka, sweaters, gloves, boots, etc. and hopped a plane for Whitehorse at 8:30 P.M.. It was the mail plane and stopped at each base on the way up - Grande Prairie, Fort St. John, where a jeep ran into our tail and we had to get a new plane, Fort Nelson and Watson Lake.

Whitehorse is a little Canadian town with a normal population of Several Hundred, now swollen to several thousand. It is the junction point between the famous White Pass and Yukon narrow gauge railroad from Skagway, Alaska, and the river steamer route down the Yukon to Dawson City and the Klondike. This is the country that Robert Service wrote about. Nearby is Lake Lebrage where they cremated Sam McGee. Its beautiful country and I sure had a 'field day' taking kodachromes.

Besides the unpaved streets and log or frame buildings including several hotels, two movies, a bowling alley and the usual array of stores, there is a large modern Air Base sliced from a mountain top three miles away. The little town is also the site of a twenty five million dollar oil refinery, part of the Canal Project, with a crude oil line coming in from Norman Wells, and a product line supplying air bases as far north as Fairbanks, Alaska, along the highway, and to Skagway on the ocean. A year ago the refinery was turning crude oil into aviation gasoline which might have saved the day for us if things had turned out differently. The plant is now closed, probably never to reopen again. It must be written off as expendable. War is nearly all waste anyway.

The Service Command Headquarters is located in frame buildings scattered among the pines just at the edge of town. It was like being in Yosemite or at Lake Tahoe except that the trees were much smaller and the country a little more rugged. It was cloudy and cold for the first week and then from the middle of May on, it was sunny and warm during the day. Toward the end of the month you could read the paper outside at 11 P.M. Army activities were being curtailed and most of the large construction camps were now closed. The Standard Oil area was rapidly becoming a ghost town. Soon, all that would remain would be highway maintenance and pipe line operational personnel. Oil tankers still discharged at Skagway.

My work was very interesting and took me on trips by plane to Fairbanks and by train to Skagway. Fairbanks is about 1000 miles northwest of Whitehorse, not far from the arctic Circle. It's a town about the size of Gilroy and looked like a metropolis after Whitehorse. The whole atmosphere was more like a town in the States, but the prices weren't- steak $5, bottle of milk 40¢, oranges 90¢ a dozen, chocolate sundae 55¢ etc. It was worse, so they say, before the OPA cracked down. There were lots of Russian pilots wandering around and plenty of vodka for sale.

I drove 100 miles down the Alaska Highway from 11 P.M. until 1:30 A.M. It was quite a thrill to drive along at fifty miles per hour over a smooth gravel road through such wild country and watch an orange streak from the sun travel along the horizon. One of these days there may be lots of traffic. I stopped at several more bases on the way back and saw Mt. McKinley in the distance.

The other trip to Skagway via the narrow gauge railroad covered scenery that is hard to beat anywhere. Leaving the Yukon, we skirted the shore of beautiful Lake Bennett for thirty miles, then up and over snow covered White Pass and suddenly down a long narrow gorge to the sea level town of Skagway. The descent was over the steepest railroad grade in the world. (We had three engines on coming back). The whole trip of 110 miles took several hours longer than the one by plane to Fairbanks. I also took a short boat trip down the Inland Passage to Chilcoot Barracks at Haines, Alaska. At a near by Indian Village I was lucky enough to get inside one of the native houses and see some of the ancient tribal robes, headdresses and treasured possessions. Although they seemed to live in a different world from us, the old Chief showed me a picture of his son, a Master Sergeant in the United States Army, now in Europe.

By the end of May, my job with the Service Command was completed and I was assigned as Assistant Post Engineer here at the Edmonton Army Air Base. Edmonton is a nice little city about the size of San Jose only more spread out. There are lots of steaks, butter, cheese, pineapple juice and all those things that are rationed in California and the prices are just the opposite of Alaska. Besides 10 American bucks are worth eleven Canadian ones at the present rate of exchange, so all in all, it's a pretty nice set-up. I hope to have the family here, at least for the summer.

And now, just in case you're wondering what a Post Engineer does, he's the Guy at each army post who keeps the buildings from falling down, fills the holes in the streets, plants the posies around headquarters, repairs the Colonel's electric razor, plugs the leaks in the waterlines, unstops the sewers, operates heating, cold storage, ice and sewage disposal plants, chlorinators and incinerators, buys the water, gas and electricity, collects the garbage, dashes to all the fires and acts important (he's the Fire Marshall), shoos away the insects, rhodents and vermin, furnishes janitorial service, tries to keep his organization running smoothly despite reports, inspections and visiting firemen, and finally, tries to abide by army regulations and still keep the Old Man happy. In other words, he catches hell from all sides, but it's lots of fun and I've gained a bit of management experience. We have about 300 employees here at Edmonton.

Married Feb. 19, 1867 Margaret Owen, in Rochester, N.Y. She was born June 17, 1849, Java, New York. The following extracts of an article in "American Families, Genealogical and Heraldic by The American Historical Society Inc. New York, 1926, pg. 148 give an idea of the character of Mr. Church. "Henry Alanson Church, son of Philip T. and Mary P. (Walton) Church was a youth of 16 years, when just out of the school room he enlisted in the Union Army in the Civil War, serving under Captain Cook in the Eighth New York Regiment, Colonel Porter commanding. He was wounded at the battle of Cold Harbor, and for many months was confined in various hospitals, returning home on crutches. He was driver of a stage coach through Wyoming Valley, and a few years after his marriage, which occurred in 1867, he started west with his wife and baby, being in Chicago during the great fire of 1871. He located first in Illinois near Gilman, later removing to Paxton, but in 1876 made his home at Marshalltown, Iowa. His business ventures were uniformly successful. He early became a shipper of stock and produce in car lots to Chicago markets and after moving to Iowa extended his activities in this direction and also became the organizer of a chain of country banks, laid out sub-divisions and builded a large number of homes in Marshalltown.

Mr. Church invested in California property during the 'boom' period of 1888, but after a short residence on the coast returned to Iowa, about this time organizing a bank at Worborne, Missouri. In 1905 he returned to California to make his permanent home in Los Angeles and here continuing his work in bank organization. His sons became the cashiers of the several banks he founded, and which he served as President and later merged with the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles as branch institutions.

Mr. and Mrs. Church celebrated their Golden Wedding in 1917, at which all children, eight grand children, and fifty old friends from Marshalltown, Iowa, were present. "

Her mother died Feb. 26, 1933, Saginaw, Michigan. In 1933 Felix M. suffered complete break in health and his wife secured a divorce in 1937, marrying again within ten days Harrison Grinnell of Midland, Mich. Mr. Church graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, in 1914. He was from his Sophomore year in college on the staff of the college paper "The Michigan Daily" and on the staff of the "Gargoyle" for one year. In 1916 was state editor on the "Detroit Evening News". In 1924 owned an interest in and edited a daily paper in Cadillac, Michigan. Later went to Grand Haven, Michigan, where he edited a paper and later to San Francisco, California, in 1930 and after a year back to Detroit where he made connection with the Detroit Free Press, until retirement from illness. Clipping from a Detroit paper dated December 8, 1919 says: "Champaign, Illinois- Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, elected F.M. Church, managing editor of the Cadillac Evening News, its National President at the closing session of its annual convention here Saturday. The new executive has been National Treasurer or National Secretary since graduating from the University of Michigan in 1914 and has been a member of the National Executive Council for five years." Resumed newspaper work on his return from the service, spent one year in Blythville, Arkansas and then returned to Michigan, Pontiac, where they have lived since. 1949 he is Managing Editor of the Pontiac Press. Following is his service record in the First World War.

Enlisted- Inducted into the Ordnance Department May 8, 1918, Detroit, Michigan.

Rank upon entrance- Private.

Training- Columbus Barracks, Columbus, Ohio, 10th. Recruit Co.

6 days here and then entrained for Camp Hancock, near Augusta, Georgia. Here was in Co. E. of the Supply School. Trained for work in Ordnance Depots. At the close of the course was transferred to the 34th. P.O.D. Co. and was made Clerk of the Co., later Co. D.

Active Service- Domgermain (near Toul) France. Saw the St. Mihiel

Drive, , was loading ammunition at the time, and helped with the wounded when they commenced to come back. About September 15th the company was again split up and Mr. Church and six others were sent to the Verdun group of ammunition dumps - the First Army Ammunition Dumps.

Promotions- Received warrant as Sergeant of Ordnance in March 1919.
Rank at Demobilization- Sergeant.

Demobilized- May 17, 1919 at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Remarks:- July 22, 1918 he left Camp Hancock for Newport News, Virginia. About July 27th. his company sailed on the "America" with 2,600 Ordnance men aboard. There were 2,000 cases of ptomaine poisoning on board when they reached Brest. The voyage lasted 12 days. The following is copied from "The Detroit News of November 21, 1918. News Reporter Prisoner, Free.

Conrad N. Church held three weeks by Germans in Prison Camp.

Private Conrad N. Church, former member of the editorial staff of The Detroit News, who volunteered in the Ordnance Department, was released last week from a German prison camp and regained the lines of the American Army of Occupation. The story of the return of the first 205 American prisoners is contained in dispatches from Raymond C. Carroll to the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Private Church was a prisoner less than three weeks, as relatives in this city have received his letters from the American lines dated October 21st. He was released November 11th. and reached the American lines November 15th., Friday at 7 A.M.

Walked 60 Kilometers.

These 205 men were sent from various points of capture on the front to a German Prison Camp at Louppy, on French soil. When the number in that camp reached 300 the men were usually loaded on trucks and taken north to a camp further from the front.

The fact that there were but 205 men in the Louppy camp when the Armistice was signed made them the first to regain the American lines, as they had less than sixty kilometers to walk. The released men were given two days rations, but no directions. Although forty French prisoners who caught up with them had two maps, it took the party four days to reach the advance guards of Maj-Gen. Joseph Dickman's Third American Army.

The men had been twice moved from the Louppy camp proper, first to an old French Fort at Montmedy and then to the Catholic Church at Gorcy, where they were set free. Their rations were given them by French civilians.

The men had been forced to work on three kinds of labor, road building, a planing mill and a bake shop. They were fed barley soup in which was chunks of black bread and horse meat.

According to the Carroll dispatch, Private Church was attached to the headquarters of the First American Army. He was cut off and captured while making observations with officers in the front lines. When last heard from by Detroit relatives he was with an advanced Ordnance Detachment north of the Verdun hills.

He was stationed at Toul, France, during the reduction of the St Mihiel salient, where he first saw active service. From there he went to Verdun. He was trained in an Ordnance School at Camp Hancock, Georgia. Private Church is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Church. His wife, Mrs. Lucille Church, is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. J. Tinker, Ann Arbor. "

In addition to the above there were notices in The Detroit Free Press and the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The first of these is the fact that the population of the United States has increased rapidly since 1860. This is due to a number of causes, including immigration from Europe and Asia, and a high birth rate. The second cause is the fact that the land area of the United States is large, and there is still a great deal of land available for settlement. The third cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing manufacturing industry, which has created a demand for labor. The fourth cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing agricultural industry, which has created a demand for labor. The fifth cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing service industry, which has created a demand for labor. The sixth cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing population, which has created a demand for labor. The seventh cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing economy, which has created a demand for labor. The eighth cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing population, which has created a demand for labor. The ninth cause is the fact that the United States has a large and growing economy, which has created a demand for labor. a 27 day cycle for combat duty was ordered out for regular troop duty again. October 6th. was released from the training assignment at Camp Wolters and assigned to the 96th. Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Washington, where I reported on the 25th. Was assigned to the Anti-Tank Regimental Company again, 383rd. Infantry, 96th. Division. Was assigned to the first platoon due to seniority of service.

1944- February 21 alerted for overseas shipment. Twelve days leave spent mostly in getting papers and equipment in shape. Was relieved from duty with the 96th. March 3rd. and ordered to Army Ground Forces Replacement Depot No. 2, Fort Ord, California (near Monterey). Reported in on March 7th and moved to Camp Stoneman (POE) on March 25 and left San Francisco March 30, on board the Blumfountain, a Dutch motor ship bound for New Caledonia as we found the second day out. Was appointed Ship's Adjutant for the 1800 odd troops aboard.

April 8th. we held the Neptune party and as I had been handing out all the work and cleaning details, the men were really waiting for me.

April 11 we were spotted by Australian Air Patrol, so we knew we were near land. The next day we came through the reefs into the long channel in to Noumea, New Caledonia. Did not debark until April 16th.

May 11 was alerted and on the 12th. sailed southward to join the 43rd. Infantry Division then on rest leave in New Zealand. From Auckland we went by motor convoy about 75 miles to the North Island.

May 15th. joined the 103rd. Infantry Regiment and was assigned to the Anti-Tank Company. Camp Buchanan was about 45 miles from Auckland.

About June 7th. took over the first Platoon for a little while and was rather busy giving training lectures for a week or so.

June 28th. moved down into Western Springs Air Corps Rest Camp on the outskirts of Auckland.

July 3 Boarded new army transport P.A. 43, (Davis C. Shanks).

July 10 sighted coast of New Guinea and landed at Aitape about five days later. Soon after took over First Platoon for good. About August 11 went up Drinuemore river line to occupy place in 1st. Bn. Lines. Moved L pill box 15 yards as it was surrounded by dead Japs and the rain kept uncovering them.

December 26th. left Aitape for the Phillipines.

1945- January 9th. Landed from an LCT in the Lingayan Gulf at the village of San Fabian, Luzon, with a force of 100,000 men according to the papers. Was in the 5th. wave of initial landing of troops. Coming ashore my platoon was reloaded of LCT from our ship. While unloading my 3 squads truck and gun dropped out of sight into a shell hole. Took four hours to get it out. Jap Zeros were buzzing overhead all the time. Staid that night in San Fabian and next day pushed into Magaldan. Severe fighting. My Platoon went up to the foremost road junction at Pac and acted as a regimental outpost, with direct phone back to regimental S.2. We were surrounded by Japs and had no way of getting out if they discovered us. Later moved north to Pozorrubio with the regiment, there my gun Platoon took over the defense of the triangular road junction leading up the valley. Five Philippine scouts were by this time part of my Platoon.

January 27th, captured Japanese officer, men and battle maps etc. and killed an officer and men, during an attack.

From this duty went into the army reserve one mile from Clark Field. Tried to get down to see the fighting on Bataan peninsula but was stopped by M.P.'s. but did see all the damage around Manila.

From here moved into Gimba and then on to the eastern outskirts of Manila about the time ~~at~~ the "walled city battle" was going on. Started pushing east into the hills and on the 27th. of February I got caught in a rocket barrage ~~was~~ ~~night~~ along with a malaria attack and was evacuated to General Hospital in Manila. From 14-20 March was evacuated by hospital ship "Marigold" to Hollandia, New Guinea. In 54th. General Hospital from 20th. March to 4th. of April when was evacuated by U.S.A.T. THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

The first settlement of the city of Boston was made in 1630 by a group of Puritan settlers from England. They came to the city in search of a place where they could practice their religion freely and without the interference of the English government. The city was founded on a small island in the harbor, and the settlers built a fort to protect themselves from the Indians. The city grew rapidly, and by 1639 it had a population of about 1,000 people. The city was the center of the Puritan movement in New England, and it played a leading role in the development of the American colonies.

There is a great deal of work to be done in the way of organizing the various departments of the government, and it is to be hoped that the new administration will be able to carry out its plans with success.

The first step should be to establish a system of public works, which will not only give employment to the unemployed, but will also improve the general condition of the country. It is also necessary to reform the judiciary, and to establish a system of public education.

It is also necessary to reform the judiciary, and to establish a system of public education. The government should also take steps to improve the condition of the poor, and to establish a system of public works.

Data regarding two Jonathan Churches in Generation 4.

1---Jonathan⁴, born Dec. 7, 1700, died Oct. 27, 1761, married Abigail Fairbanks, Richard³, mar. Elizabeth Noble, John², Richard¹.
 If this Jonathan was the father of James who wrote his father Jonathan in New London in 1768 the death date I have for Jonathan is incorrect. Mrs. Frederick F. Church's family have letters written to a Jonathan from his sons James and one from Roswell, as well as other papers. James wrote from Newport, New Hampshire to his father Jonathan in New London. It seems more likely that James was the son of Jonathan Jr.⁵ who married Mary Angell and who had a James and a Roswell on whom I had no information except that they were sons of Jonathan Jr. a son of Jonathan and Abigail Fairbanks. Other records show that James also had a brother Samuel of whom I had no record. The letter from James to his father and mother in New London, Conn. shows that he had brothers and sisters then living in or near New London. that he had a young son and that his mother-in-law was named Davis.

There were sisters in the family of Jonathan Jr. and Mary Angell but he would have none in the family of Jonathan Sr. and Abigail, so far as have been able to discover.

Mrs. Frederick F. Church's belief that Jonathan Sr. did not die in 1761 is based on the fact that papers in their family possession signed by a Jonathan Jr. in 1774 and the same Jonathan signing in 1777 without the Jr. added, would indicate that his father died between 1774 and 1777.

2---Jonathan⁴, (Deacon?), born Dec. 13, 1702, died Oct. 17, 1761, married 1st. Ruth Hitchcock, 2nd. Miriam Chapin-Josiah³ and Thankful Brooks, Samuel², Richard¹. This is the second Jonathan. Their family consisted of two boys, Moses and Aaron and three girls and have been unable to carry forward families of sons.

In my records I may have transposed the wives of these two Jonathans.

Is Whit(e)man Church connected with either of them and what is the relationship between Whit(e)man and James?

Professor William H. Church has spent years in an attempt to prove the relationship between James and Whit(e)man as they owned property together and lived together part of the time. Whit(e)man was his great grandfather. My latest information was that he felt James's father was the Jonathan Jr. who married Mary Angell, but which Jonathan, the one I have numbered 1 or number 2 was the father of Jonathan Jr. is still in question.

Professor William H. Church, Nantucket, Mass. 1932,

Mrs. Frederick F. Church, Ridgefield, Conn. 1943.

Mrs. Nellie H. Clower, San Diego, 1935. (California).

Mrs. Frank Baker, Dryden, Michigan, 1948, all have the same problem- from which one of these Jonathans does their earliest known and proved ancestor come. By research and elimination they feel sure it is one or the other.

Probable line of decent of Frederick Fargo Church.

Jonathan Jr., born 1730 (my records show b. 1726), d. 1800

Married Feb. 13, 1762 Mary Angell, dau. William. (It was through a Jonathan Jr. that the letters from James and Roswell and other documents came into the possession of the family of Mr. Frederick Fargo Church.

Joshua Morris, born June 22, 1779, died Jan. 27, 1861.

Married Oct. 17, 1822 Celina Mallory, dau. of David.

Joshua had a twin brother, William, who went to Meadville, Pa. and his family may be 'picked up' there.

Truman Kilborn, born Sept. 22, 1823, died May 25, 1883.

Married Jan. 4, 1847 Julia Maria Benedict, b. July 18, 1825, dau. of Joseph, and they had; 2 sons following.

Frederick Fargo, born May 4, 1864, d. Oct. 19, 1925.

Married Oct. 18, 1893 Mary Frances White, dau. Theodore.

Melville, born Utica, N.Y. Dec. 16, 1856.

Married Sarah H. Durant and had:

Durant, Melville Durant, Kortright, Helen Durant, Mallory Durant, Heyliger, Kilborn, Maxwell Durant Church of Washington, D.C.

Professor William H. Church's line of descent.

Whit(e)man Church.

Whit(e)man church, born 1760 (?), d. Otsego Co., N.Y. 1815 ae. 55.

Went to Volney, N.Y. 1805-9. Said to have served in War of 1812.

Married Phoebe Hull about 1792, who died Fulton, N.Y. May 23, 1852, ae. 88. She was said to have been the daughter of a sea captain.

Both supposed to have come from Connecticut. Whit(e)man registered in 1790 census as head of family in Newport, New Hampshire, and witnessed a deed by which James Church transferred land in Newport May 16, 1791.

Freeman Church twin of Whit(e)man or Whitman.

Children of Whit(e)man and Phoebe (Hull) Church.

Hubbard, b. March 28, 1794, said to have served in war of 1812.

James, born Feb. 19, 1796.

Philena, b. May 3, 1798, married J.J. Crockett.

Robert W. b. Feb. 13, 1800, d. May 28, 1856.

Married Eunice Hudge. (Grandfather of Wm. A. Church of Andrus & Church, Ithaca, N.Y., 1920.

Benjah, born May 3, 1803.

Lawrence Y. b. Jan. 20, 1806.

Polly, b. Aug. 13, 1803.

And 4 more who died in childhood.

Whos Who in America says of Mr. William H. Church, 1826-7:

William Howell Church born Bath, N.Y. Nov. 1, 1869, son of Edwin Lawrence and Augusta (Bull) Church.

Married Edith Gray at Nantucket, Mass. July 9, 1904. She d. Oct. 5, 1924. They had: 1 son:

William Bull Church, b...

The History of Newport, New Hampshire, by Wheeler on pages 306 and 342 states that Samuel Church brother of James, one of the early settlers was born April 3, 1749 in New London, Conn. and came to Newport from there in 1780, died Newport June 28, 1828. (This date from Wm. H. Church.) Married June 26, 1769 Martha Constock and they had a son Samuel who married Azuba Bowman. These names appear in following outlines of ancestry.

Mrs. Daniel E. Clower's line of descent.

Samuel Church, Wheeler's Hist. of Newport, says, b. April 3, 1749, New London, and that he was a bro. of James Clower, April 14, 1749, New London, and that he was a bro. of James.

(Specifically named) but no where do we find the parents of James and this Samuel. He died June 28, 1823, Was in Newport, N.H. 1790, (at that time in Cheshire Co., now Sullivan Co.) according to the census. Was Town Clerk in 1789 and a Selectman most of the time for 20 years, the last year being 1812. (Mrs. Clower said he ('died from drink).

The History of Newport, N.H. pg. 342 has this to say of Samuel: and gives his children -- "Came from New London, Conn. in 1780 and had his blacksmith shop just east of his dwelling. Was prominent and influential among the early citizens. Married June 26, 1769 Martha Comstock, born Feb. 19, 1746." From another source I have her death as Aug. 9th. or 27th. 1846.

Children of Samuel and Martha (Comstock) Church.

Some of the data on the son Samuel from Mrs. Clower. He is her ancestor.

Martha, born June 18, 1777, died 1801.

Abigail, born May 11, 1779, died July 13, 1802.

Samuel Jr., born March 27, 1781. xdx dx. He was a merchant. Died between 1840 and 1852, probably at Lima, N.Y. Aged 65 at his death. Was an Odd Fellow. Newport History gives one wife only, the 1st. Mrs. Clower gives 2. She says he had 14 children by 1st. and 2 by 2nd. wife. The history, pg. 306 gives parentage etc. of first wife. Married 1st. Zubal Bowman, b. May 2, 1737, died 1831. (Name spelled Azuba in Hist.) She was dau. of Abiathar Bowman, native of Lexington, Mass. and a Rev. soldier. and Thankful (Rice) Bowman of Henniker, N.H.

John, born June 2, 1782, blacksmith. Worked with his father.

Temperance, born Nov. 14, 1784.

Married Jacob Dwinell.

Lucy, born March 27, 1786.

Married Col. Erastus Baldwin. He was son of Eleazer of Killingworth, Conn. and was born May 2, 1790 and was married July 5, 1811. He took the old Church homestead, which stood upon the site now occupied by Wheeler's block, where he remained until his death, and which was subsequently occupied many years by his widow. This note about Lucy's husband, pg. 292 gives her birth June 3, instead of March 27. Pg. 293 of Newport Hist. says that the children of this couple were prominent men, Henry E. being private Secy. to President Pierce and another, Samuel being twice Representative in the Mass. Legislature. (The Baldwin Gen. does not seem to help on the Church genealogy.)

Caleb, born Feb. 19, 1788. Died young.

Jonathan, born Feb. 17, 1794.

Note- Believe Mrs. Clower was in error in adding a second wife, as I have she thought the name was Ann Daniels and I find that a Samuel of the Garrett lines married Ann Daniels. The Carrett lines seem to have a number from Killingly, Conn. Killingly is now in Windham Co. but I find no Killingworth at the present time listed as a Post office (1955).

Children of Samuel Jr. and Zubal (Azuba) Bowman Church and ?

Ann (Daniels) Church.

Reference History of Newport, N.H. which gives -Nabby, Oliver, Peleg L. and Samuel, and Mrs. Nellie (Himebaugh) Clower.

Austin (Joseph Austin) her first proven ancestor, b. Jan. 27, 1814.

died July 1, 1853.

Married May 1, 1839, Julia Ann Cardwell, b. May 24, 1814, d. Mr. 13, 1809, dau. of Uriah and Jemima (Hough) Cardwell. Uriah b. 1786, d. 1871, Jemima b. 1794. They were of Bozrah, Conn. where they lived until after the birth of three of their children, of whom Julia Ann was one. They moved to New York after that. She went back to Conn. when she was 19 and staid with her grandparents Hough four years and then came back to Michigan to be with her parents. In Conn. she had met her future husband, J.A.Church. Marriage record is "Joseph Church 25 of Bozrah, Conn and Julia Ann Cardwell 25 of Bristol, Mich (New Almont), Lapeer Co. Marriages Vol. 1, pg. 16". He was the only one of the family to go to Michigan. A cousin of Mrs. Baker's mother told her that their ancestor, Austin or Joseph Austin had a brother Jeremiah, and Peleg and Jane Harrington did have a son Jeremiah as well as an Austin, as the name was given in History of Montville, leaving off the name Joseph. Her mother's brother was also a Joseph Austin but was called simply Austin all his life.

Julia Ann (Cardwell) Church married 2nd. Luke Peaslee of Canada. The Lapeer, Michigan, Co. History in giving a biographical sketch of Julia Ann (Cardwell) Church, then a widow, states that she married J.A.Church. Reference:- "The Book of Capri" - 2nd. edition, by Harold E. Trower, 1924- Published in Naples, Italy.

Note- Book loaned to me by a friend, to whom it was presented by the author, British Consul on the Isle of Capri as I understand. Am including these excerpts about the name Church as the book may not be readily available.

"Captain Richard Church (afterward General Sir Richard), who was Captain in command of the Corsican Rangers at Anacapri (on the island of Capri) from October 1806 to September 1808, writing to his sister says: The only road from Capri here (Anacapri) is up a steep ^{cut} into ~~the~~ 600 perpendicular steps Fancy me leading a high spirited Arabian horse up these steps, which I have done, and he is the only horse in the island.

In a letter to his brother dated April 17th. 1807, Captain Church writes: "By offering rewards for the balls fired by the British ships into the Island, when the place was taken, and which were to be found in the vineyards, I have recruited as far as 500 extra rounds."

In another letter to his brother he wrote: "On March 1st. a division of 2000 or 3000 French, under General Merlin embarked from Baia, and were half way across when a tempest arose which obliged them to put back."

In 1808 Captain Church had been placed in command at Anacapri with his Corsican Rangers. In a letter to his sister he writes: "I am sole Governor here, civil and military. My military force consists of two companies, besides an officers detachment of forty men, making my regular troops about 200, and two four pounders. Besides these I have about sixty militia, and few of the King of Naples gamekeepers. I am at the advanced post, the first to be attacked when King Giuseppi (Buonaparte) shall be that way inclined. I am totally independent of the commanding officers except what relates to the regiment, and communicate with him by telegraph and night signals. The population consists of about 900 people, not one of whom can go down to Capri without my passport. There is here a convent of nuns, and a college for ecclesiastical education. I am on great terms with the "Abbadessa" a most respectable old lady, who was obliged to fly from Naples by the French, and is much attached to the English. We correspond almost daily, and as often as possible I make her a present of fish, butter, hams and anything I can pick up."

Oct. 4, 1808 the French attacked the Island of Capri and the next day two companies of English surrendered. The two companies of English Corsicans taking advantage of the darkness and their knowledge of the country effected their retreat. Captain Church with the third company found himself cut off, and his retreat intercepted. What was to be done? He, with his little force remained quiet till eight o'clock in the evening, hoping that the enemy would re-embark, and leave them free to descend the rocky stairs, and join their friends at Capri, below. But just then the moon rose and under her calm, clear light the enemy was to be seen forming into columns, and advancing across the plain, with beat of drum and fire of masonry. "Finding all hopes of defending the Post I occupied entirely dissipated" he says in his report: "I threw the gun I had into the sea, and commenced my retreat by the left, marching through vineyards and narrow roads leading from Dama Costa (Damascenta) to the Capo di Monte, the only retreat I had left, all the others being occupied by the enemy."

They had not gone a quarter of a mile when met by a challenge. They had marched straight upon a large body of French troops. Like Richard Church's ready wit did not desert him: reflecting that the dark uniforms of his Corsicans would be a protection, he answered readily in French that they were French troops pushing on to rejoining their comrades below. Their uniforms of some Maltese who were following led to discovery of the trick and they were fired upon, but knowing the country speedily dispersed among the rocks. To descend the rocky stairs to Capri was now impossible and there was nothing to do but to climb down the face of the rock which divides Anacapri from Capri; and this they did, scrambling along a goat track through the darkness.

This daring feat received its due meed of praise from the Colonel and Commandant Hudson Lowe. "Captain Church's exertions" he reports, "were peculiarly conspicuous. The orderly retreat of this detachment, through parties of the enemy, and down precipices heretofore deemed impracticable forms the highest eulogium on the officer who guided it. They had been 24 hours under arms, and in constant movement."

The quotations above were credited by the author to the book "Sir Richard Church in Italy and Greece" by E.M. Church. I have been unable to find a copy of this book.

Anthony Church of whom the Becket, Mass. vital records say: "Church, Anthony. Widr. b. Conn. old age, ae. 87; died Becket, Aug. 26, 1848." After long and extensive search of Connecticut records have failed to find his birth in that state. Later, as given, D.A.R. application gave Rhode Island as his birthplace but also failed to find record there, but did find records of a William Church and Prudence Bennett who may possibly be parents of Anthony as the name Bennett has been carried down in the family, therefore perhaps:

Generation I.

William¹- Born 1737, Died Dec. 6, 1824 ae. 87. R.I. vitals Vol. 21. Married Prudence Bennett, dau. of William Oct. 19, 1760. Mar. by William Burton, Justice.

Generation II.

Children of William¹ and Prudence (Bennett) Church. (Perhaps) Anthony²- Born Feb. 18, 1761 per D.A.R. application #74497 of Mrs. James N. Fisher, who was admitted on his Revolutionary record, Cranston, Providence Co., Rhode Island. He died at Becket, Mass. Berkshire Co., Aug. 26, 1848. Married Deliverance Chaffee, dau. of Thomas and Hannah, born Willington, Conn. Oct. 26, 1764, bapt. July 20, 1766 in the Congregational Church, Willington. She died Becket, Mass. Sept. 14, 1814. Married there Sept. 8, 1786. (Becket vitals say "Int. Sep. 11, 1786"). Both buried in Becket. References- New Eng. Gen. and Hist. Reg. Vol. 67, pg. 117; Chaffee Gen. 1909, pg. 141, and Becket vitals. The 1790 census shows Anthony Church head of a family in Berkshire Co., Town of Becket, Mass. 1 son under 16, 1 dau. and wife. Mass. Soldiers and Sailors Vol III, pg. 438 gives the following:

"Church, Anthony, Salem, Descriptive list of officers and crew of the ship "Jack" (privateer) commander by Captain Nathan Brown, sworn to July 1, 1780; age 21 years, stature, 5 feet, 3 inches, complexion, light; residence Salem." See description of the ship "Jack" in "The Ships and Sailors of Old Salem" by Paine.

The following is given in his pension application, copied from original papers on file in the Dept. of the Interior, Rec. Pension Dept., Washington, D.C. 1929.

Anthony Church- Application dated Oct. 5, 1832, Becket, Berkshire Co., Mass. Annually $66.65- Born Feb. 18, 1761. Entered at Warwick, Rhode Island, Oct. 1777, commanded by Lieu. Holden, discharged, enlisted again May 1778. Guarded the harbor, discharged and enlisted later, 17½ months altogether. A "Census of Pensioners" for Revolutionary or Military Services records that June 1, 1840 Anthony was living with his son Cyrus in Becket, Mass. Cowell's "Spirit of '76" states that Anthony was a private in Captain Robert Elliotts Regiment.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
JANUARY 1921
TO THE HONORABLE CHIEF OF BUREAU OF MINES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

RECEIVED JANUARY 1921
FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Enclosed for the Bureau of Mines are two copies of a report on the results of the investigation of the properties of the various forms of carbon, and of the effect of the treatment of these forms of carbon on the rate of reaction with oxygen. The report is divided into two parts, the first of which deals with the properties of the various forms of carbon, and the second of which deals with the effect of the treatment of these forms of carbon on the rate of reaction with oxygen. The report is written in a clear and concise manner, and is well illustrated with diagrams and tables. It is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the properties of carbon, and of the effect of the treatment of these forms of carbon on the rate of reaction with oxygen.

Very respectfully,
J. H. VAN DER WOUDE
Professor of Chemistry

The following are some interesting letters written by Rev. Nathan Church to his son, Nathan Jr. and now in possession Of Rev. Fred W. Church, Dalton, Pennsylvania, in January of 1945.

Maine, (N.Y.) March 22, 1851.

Dear and affectionate son. I take my pen to write to you a few lines to let you know how we do. We are about as usual as to health. I am yet permitted to live but am as numb as ever and it so affects the small of my back that it is hard work for me to walk. My health otherwise is about the same it has been. It is all over me, but have reason to be thankful that my mind is retained to me so well, that I am able to think, to write, and to converse freely as ever, and if I am not mistaken religion is my theme that I like to dwell upon. What is more soul ravishing than to dwell on the love (of) Jesus. How great would my affliction be if I had not this to comfort me. Your letter was to me like a grateful oil to my soul, to hear you tell what God was doing to save rebellious men, and that it was a matter you took a deep interest in. How happy it is to be joined to the Lord and have his work ours to do. I would be glad to come to your place if I might be permitted, and you and your family as glad to have it so. but we must be resigned to our Heavenly Father's will, as well in trouble as in joy. as though I might be restored if I could take the right course, for Christ has said where two or three are agreed in prayer and ask in faith it shall be done, and you know the apostle says if any sick among you let them call the Elders of Church and let them pray anointing them with oil in the name of the Lord, and the prayer of faith shall save the sick. By far the most that have prayed with me in my sickness have scarcely asked for me to be raised. They have taken it for granted that I must die with this complaint. I have thought for some time if I was not made better by some means it would produce consumption or dropsy. But in relation to being any better, I feel that I am in the hands of God, and all things are possible with God. I have felt I think freedom in asking for a return of health, as I am constantly praying to be at disposal and resigned to his will. I would like to be engaged again in his cause on earth and be a further comfort to my family.

24. We had a letter from Hannah a few days before we had yours. She had not very good health since she went back from here. Duwayne (DeWayne Horton- Mr. F. Church's note) is teaching school this winter for $18 per month. They have hired a house and live by themselves. He boards in the district. She wrote the small pox was at the depot, and Elder Ketcham's daughter, Diantha, has died with it. Since H. wrote, the family are feeling very bad, as they have no hope of her being prepared for so great a change. What a solemn thought to die all alone. Her father was at the place the day before she died. He did not see her. We had a letter from John Davenport stating that Mother Davis died on the 20th. of February, that she was resigned. This was heavy tidings to your Mother (step-mother), but she bears it with Christian fortitude.

25. We have had two letters from Lydia (Married Messenger) I do not know as you have heard of it for I have forgotten what I wrote last to you, and what I wrote. I did not know then for I was quite down when he wrote. It may not be amiss for me to say she wrote on the 8 of December (1851) stating that she had a second son about four months old. His name is Elmer Nathan. She also wrote that Cyrus was married about three weeks before to a woman about thirty three years old. Her last was written the 2 March. They were all well. Bennit was there, and had talked buying out Lorin. She thought it had fallen through. There was no particular news that you will care about. Your letter seemed to afford me the greatest consolation that I have had this great while. My prayer is that God will continue his work and add to your consolation and joy, and your and my prayer that all our family may be brought to love and fear the Lord. And may God yet bless you in your family, and bring your little ones to rejoice in glorious with and your companion do more for them than your Father did for his. Give my love and best respects to Almida and the children. This from your father, Nathan Church.

Note by Rev. Fred W. Church:

In the above letter the following persons are referred to;
 Hannah,- daughter of Rev. Nathan. Her husband, DeWayne (various ways of spelling) Horton, also referred to in same connection.
 Mother Davis,- The mother of his second wife. When he says "Your mother" he refers to his step-mother.
 Lydia,- Lydia Ann, his daughter, who married William E. Messenger.
 Cyrus,- Brother of Rev. Nathan, living at Becket, Mass. The woman whom he married was his first wife, Phoebe D. Gleason.
 Bennit,- Probably William Bennett, brother of Rev. Nathan.

Lorin,- Another brother (Loring Bennett) of Rev. Nathan.
 Almeda,- The wife of Nathan Jr.

Maine , October 14, 1851.

Dear Affectionate Son, together with your dear family. I take my pen to let you know that through the good pleasure of our Heavenly Father I am yet permitted to live, and am able to think and write a few lines to you, to let you know how I am. When Hannah wrote I had fallen into a very poor state. I was taken puking and though it did not last long, I was left in rather a prostrate condition, with a disposition to sleep and as I have since learned, there was considerable alarm about me for a few days. It was most likely caused by the complaint or numbness on some part of the stomach. In about three days I seemed to arouse, and have been wakeful. My appetite also returned and I feel in some respects quite smart, but as yet numb as ever. I am now taking a syrup directed by a clairvoyant at Syracuse. Heuben Rood wrote to me that he had been much helped by his prescription, and as I was doing nothing I thought I would try what he would say of my complaint. I think he better understands my condition than any man that has examined me being present. It is two weeks since I began to take it, and then was more down than usual. I think if I had but got his syrup earlier, it might have helped me more than it will now. I think it agrees well with me so far, but a cure, how can I expect. I am in the hands of God, in whom I trust for all things, both in this, and in the world to come. Permit me to say as creatures our desire is still to live a little longer. I do not know as I would be further useful to the world around me, yet I have had a large desire to get out of this numbness. I would like with other fathers to be a comfort to my family and try to preach the word of life to the world again around. When Christ prayed that hour of suffering might pass he submitted, saying, Father thy will be done. I hope I shall put the same submission to whatever may be his sovereign will concerning me at this time. The time will come, sooner or later, that we must give up all we have below, and try the realities of the spirit world, and our interest in Christ Jesus, our Lord.

October 15. I should have written to you on getting better if I had known where you were. Hannah went home before I was able to write. Her husband came up and they went home together. I heard in August by Mr. Belcher that you had gone, and since that I have not known where you were. We got your letter the 13, and one from Lydia Ann the same time. They were well. We were glad to hear that you were all well. I have enjoyed myself as well as could be expected in such a state. I busied myself for a few days in making acrostics on the names of all my children, and desire to on their companions; but I am most too light headed to compose at present. I wrote one on your aunt Prudence, and a few others in this place that requested it for themselves. My numbness is the same in kind as at the beginning. I feel about the same in my hands, but my lower limbs and my hips, the small of my back have been constantly on the increase in depth and vigor. I get up and down yet, but sometimes it seems as though I could not much longer. Since the poor turn I had a few weeks ago my head is more light than before, but my appetite is good and my bowels more regular. There was a time they were too still. I think I have told you about how I do, and you can think of me as you cannot see me. I am sorry to have you gone so far from us that we cannot see each other in sickness. I am glad you are about to have a house of your own, if you are in the place where you ought to be, and of that you will be your own judge. I hope you are in the midst of good society, where you will find something always to do for the good of others, and it will be a blessing to you and yours also. I expected it would be difficult for you to leave so soon after moving, as well as a great tax. Mail time has come, and I must close. Wishing you with your family the blessing of God. Nathan Church.

Note:- Mr. Belcher: His oldest daughter, Deliverance, had married Elijah Belcher. This may be some of that family.

Aunt Prudence: Sister of Rev. Nathan.

Haine, Eb. 23, 1852.

Through the mercy of the Lord I have lived to see the 23 of Feb. again. I am this day three score and three years of old, and feel that I can never see the other seven years added to my life. Be that as it may I feel the necessity of not being ready to depart at my Heavenly Father's call. I am lingering yet in my illness as usual. I see no way of being better, unless it comes from on high in special grace. I have often said, Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me whole. It has not been his pleasure to speak the healing word or I should have immersed into health and active life with songs of praise and triumph. But I would be resigned to my lot be it as it may. I yet seem to have liberty to call on God through the dear Redeemer for the manifestation of his grace to me. I enjoy his presence with delight, live by faith in the Son of God, who, I think, has loved me with an everlasting love, and gave himself for me. I do not feel at all times as spiritual as I like to do, but I trust wholly in grace alone to overcome and conquer. I can recommend religion to all, whether old or young. There seems to be attention to religion in our place. Quite a number profess to obtain hope in Christ. It has been mostly by Methodist efforts at our schoolhouse, and in the schoolhouse at Lamb's Corners. We are glad to have religion prosper by any means. Its hard to keep at home in such times, when there is necessity for preaching. Our folks have had Elder Jones half of the time the past year. Eld. Marycott is now supplying us for half of the year. He is from Hartford. He baptised Henry Borden 2 weeks ago. Our folks are as usual, except Irene has the whooping cough, and Ado-m (Adoniram) coughs about as hard as she does, either by cold or the chin cough. Adoniram was married the first day of January, the day he was 21. I have been writing acrostics this winter for all hands, and I send you one for Almeda and one also for Ellen. I have written a little piece for Adelbert Belcher on the loss of his Mother, as a memorial of her. A few other pieces also, one on the Resurrection. I may write something. I received a letter from William and Lydia the same time with yours. Their families are wdl. He was to see Lydia in September. He expects to move next spring to Schohar (?) Center where he wishes to have his letters sent. I was glad to hear from Henry Hare's (?) family. You will give them respects for their father's sake. I do not know where he died, nor how long he has been dead. If you learn anything concerning him write to me.

You know, my dear son, that I want to see you and your family, if I could. But in this I try to feel resigned, to my lot, and do not feel uneasy to have you feel so on my account, for I am not expecting anything more of you than to write when it is convenient. I was just thinking it was time for me to write, for I know that you want to hear as often as you can from your father while under the influence of disease, and if I could but say that I am better I could be more to write, if I could make you glad. We love our friends and are sorrowful when they are sick or in affliction. But this I feel, that their prayers will be offered often for us while we are in any trouble. I would rely on God alone, and I feel a friend's prayers are not in vain. He will ere long answer us to the joy and satisfaction of our hearts, in his own appointed way. My feet and lower limbs are very numb, seem to increase in numbness, and the curl of my back is so much compressed that I feel as though I were bound with a hoop. I cannot walk without holding up myself to get along. I know you would like to know how I linger. I do not perhaps feel the worst of any body. My mind is as strong for aught I know as it was when you were here last. I can converse with freedom and write with pleasure, if I could keep a good pen. Steel pens do not last, and I never have liked them. I cannot keep a knife that will mend or make a pen, but I will do the best I can. I am now using an old steel pen that had been thrown by. My quill got so bad that I was obliged to lay it by. You will see that there was grease on the stand, and the letter has got a part of it. I close this hoping to write again. I send my love to you all hoping that when we get through with earth and its tribulations that we may meet where parting scenes will be no more. Lydia Ann wrote that your aunt Prudence was quite out of health this winter. Complains of pain in her side and stomach. The change of your circumstances will give you an impulse beyond your strength. I am glad that you have got a house of your own. Should be glad to see it with your family in it. I should like a description, and how far you have moved, and how near you are to the depot. Anything about it will be new to me. Is your land more productive than here. I am glad you have found a meeting. You did not say how far you had to go nor what the preacher's name was. Do not work too hard. Be careful of your health; it is better than money. What would I give to be well. You have had a serious time of it already. Don't think that you can stand everything. I cannot say too much to you on that subject. Be careful, if you will hear your Father. Stand fast in the faith; quit you like a man. Be strong, and the God of grace will help you on this earth and in heaven. I have always had confidence in you in all things, and it is a joy to me now that if we meet no more here we shall rejoice to meet in the bright world above, free from tribulation. This from your father, Nathan Church.

to: Irene and Adoniram: Adoniram was his son by his second wife and Irene was Adoniram's wife.

Henry Harris:- There is a possibility that this should read, "Henry Hare's". If so, it may be some of the family of Rev. Nathan's first wife. The name comes at the fold in the paper which makes it hard to read.

Almeda and Ellen: Almeda, Nathan Jr's. wife and Ellen, his daughter.

Maine, August 13, 1952.

Dear Affectionate Son. I take my pen to write you a few lines to let you know how we are. All are about as usual. I am not gaining in health but think the disease is gaining on me, getting a deeper hold on my system. I think I wrote before that I was unable to walk, and I appear to gain nothing but numbness. I do nothing for this complaint. All that seems useful is to do what little I can that will strengthen the system. I have not been out this summer. I have not tried to ride. The want to lower limbs and the distress in my back and head forbid my moving. I have received your letter of the 6. Was glad to hear that you were comfortably well, though you have been sore afflicted. The Lord be with you and sanctify all that it may turn to your salvation. I was glad to hear that you were in a new house, made to your mind, and I hope you are thankful for so great a favor. You are about the same age that I was when I came to this place 27 years ago last spring. I am that older than you are. My father was 23 years older than I. My bowels are so inactive that nothing passes, only by injection. It is attended with such difficulty. Of how great worth is Christ to a poor afflicted soul, needing up to his exchange. He is all in all. To such an one my soul now believes, but trials can be endured while we hope in mercy and believe God's holy word. We can venture on eternity with confidence in hope of seeing Jesus when these conflicts are over and past. Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God believe also in me. How great are his promises, and I believe he will make them all good in their time. I must close. The letter must now go to the P.O. I hope we shall so live as to meet at last beyond tribulations, to part no more. You are entitled to my warmest love. This from y our father. Nathan Church. Aug. 14.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the underlying mechanisms of the observed phenomena. It highlights the need for a comprehensive approach that integrates various disciplines to address the complexity of the problem. The authors argue that a purely reductionist approach is insufficient and that a more holistic perspective is required to fully understand the system.

2. In the second section, the authors present a detailed analysis of the data collected from the experiments. They show that the results are consistent with the theoretical predictions, but also reveal some unexpected patterns that warrant further investigation. The authors discuss the implications of these findings for the broader field and suggest potential directions for future research.

3. The third part of the paper focuses on the development of a new model that can better explain the observed behavior. This model incorporates the insights gained from the previous sections and is designed to be more robust and generalizable than previous attempts. The authors provide a thorough validation of the model using both experimental and theoretical methods.

4. Finally, the paper concludes with a summary of the key findings and a discussion of the broader implications of the work. The authors emphasize the importance of continued collaboration and communication in advancing our understanding of this complex system. They also acknowledge the limitations of the current study and suggest ways to address these challenges in future work.

Additional Information on this "John of Dover" Church Family

Under Cochecho, New Hampshire tax lists Aug. 25, 1684 is name of John Church, also there in 1692 as signed a petition asking equal privileges with Massachusetts. (This latter date may have been for John Jr.)

Pike's Journal says he was slain "as he travelled to seek his horse upon a little hill betwixt Cochecho and Tole End".

The Wentworth Genealogy Vol. I says Deborah, who mar. John Roberts and lived in Somersworth had 5 children and that she married 2nd. Phineas Ricker. This Genealogy also says that John 1st. had land in the Parish of Somersworth in the Province of New Hampshire as shown by a will of Paul Wentworth who wills land bought of John Church.

See Libby's Genealogical Dictionary of Maine and New Hampshire. Vol. II. Mr. Libby says that John¹ was married twice, first as shown and 2nd, to Sarah and adds one more child, Benjamin, b. Oct. 28, 1636, died young. He also says that Deborah was b. Aug. 15, 1633 and that she and Benjamin were children of second wife, Sarah Says that Jonathan, 1st. son of John, and Ebenezer 3rd. son died without issue that Mercy Hanson wife of John's 2nd. son, married 2nd. before 1713 Nathaniel Young. He also says that Sarah, youngest daughter who mar. Nathan Folger in 1722 sold one fifth of her father's estate to Theo Hanson, which he conveyed to heirs of her brother John 1727. Says that Abigail 1st. child of John and Mercy married Moses Wingate.

Garrett or Jared Church of Watertown, Massachusetts, Probably 1631. Was a man of mark in Boston 1634.

Following is copy of small booklet which a note says was prepared, or that Mrs. Carrie E. Chatfield, genealogist of Minneapolis, Minn. would supply additions. Letter to her returned 1936. Copied 1929 in the Congressional Library, Washington, D.C.

This is probably the Garrett Family. From all other records it would seem that the first Isaac should be John Jr. who married Any Winter, as other records indicate.

I have secured the following information confirming the above or adding to it, from various sources. Miss Grace A. Waterbury, Corning N.Y., 1933, wrote that she and her brother had their Church lines, (From Garrett) about ready to include in a family history but the depression had delayed publication. She added that the errors in the Truman Church booklet were minor ones, "as I recall, fitting the wrong daughter in a family". "Then in Jericho three years ago, with aid of the Vermont Historical Magazine corrected it for our notes."

It seems from all other records that an error was made in starting this record with Isaac, that it should have been John Jr. who married Amy Winter in 1735, and that she died at 104 and John Jr. and Amy had the children named, with others.

In 1942 Mr. J. Crawford Hartman of Brooklyn, N.Y. wrote for information on this family saying he was compiling a history of the Blanchard families. He gave another daughter of John and Amy (Winter) Church, as Elizabeth, b. Killingly, Conn. Apr. 23, 1744, Mar. Mch. 15, 1770 Abiel Blanchard, in Killingly. He b. there Oct. 4, 1748, d. in Bennington, Vermont abt. 1807, son Wm and Thankful (Webster) Blanchard. Lived in Shutesbury, Mass for a time, where first 3 children were born. The list of children as I now have them for John Jr. and Amy Winter (thought to be the Isaac of Mr. Truman Church's compilation) is:

Asa, b. June 14, 1738, d. Vershire, Vt.

Married Abiah Pease Jan. 14, 1760. She is buried in Jericho, Vt.

See Mansfield, Conn. vitals Vol. D. 221.

Amey, b. Sept. 19, 1739.

Isaac, b. Jan. 31, 1742, bapt. Mch. 20, 1743. (father Othello)

Married Sept. 5, 1765, Elezer Daniels in Killingly, Conn. They moved to Mansfield, Conn and evidently soon after marriage as children were born there. (Mansfield vitals, vol. 420.

Elizabeth, b. Apr. 23, 1744. Miss Waterbury says this Elizabeth, giving same dates as Mr. Hartman, married Ephraim Campbell instead of Abiel Blanchard.

Zeriah, b. Aug. 20, 1747,

Married Timothy Stetson.

Mary, b. Nov. 30, 1750.

Married Robert Fletcher and removed to Maine. Hollowell vitals say mar. 2-21-1793

John, b. May 9, 1753, removed to Maine.

Married Susannah Cony.

can. In the second battle of Fredericksburgh when his regiment charged up the heights, he again did honor to himself, although in that gallant charge his regiment lost one hundred and eight men in killed and wounded; yet his life was again spared, but for only one short day. The next afternoon, when the enemy charged on our brigade, he fell, while nobly fighting for his country.

Silas and Catherine Church.

Much of the information on this line came from Miss Lavina B.
Church, Holly, New York, Mrs. J.E. Tobin, Norwalk, California, Mr.
Levi Henderson Church, Bridgeport, N.Y. and Mrs. H. Guard Bates, of Caughdenoy, N.Y. all about 1916. (never able to connect this Silas with the family from which Miss ~~Holly~~ Church thought they came.)

Church

Miss Church thought her line came from William Harrison Church who married Jane Wood because her people said that a powder horn inscribed "Liberty, W.H.C. (William Harrison Church) Ticonderoga 1777" belonged to one of their grandfathers. This horn is now (1916) in possession of the Mrs. Tobin of Norwalk, Cal. and was later purchased from her by Mr. Clyde M. Church of Pasadena, a descendant of William Harrison Church and Jane Wood.

TO THE EDITOR:
I am writing to you regarding the results of the experiment conducted on the effect of temperature on the rate of reaction of the system studied.

The data obtained from the experiment show that the rate of reaction increases with increasing temperature. This is in agreement with the Arrhenius equation, which predicts that the rate constant increases exponentially with temperature.

The activation energy of the reaction was determined from the Arrhenius plot to be approximately 15 kJ/mol. This value is consistent with the proposed mechanism for the reaction, which involves a transition state with a moderate degree of bond breaking and forming.

I am enclosing a copy of the report of the experiment for your review. The report contains a detailed description of the experimental procedure, the data obtained, and the conclusions drawn from the results.

I am very grateful for your interest in my work and for the opportunity to discuss the results of the experiment with you. I am sure that your comments and suggestions will be most helpful in improving the quality of the report.

Notes on the Irish Church Family lines following.

Major Thomas Church of the Revolutionary War, from Pennsylvania, was an early settler in Chester County, Pennsylvania. Came to America early and settled at Coventryville, Chester Co. He was the son of Paul and Martha Church and was born about 1743 at The Grove, near the town of Straton, county Londonderry, Ireland. He died September, 1812 at Coventryville, buried St. James Cemetery, Evansburg, Pennsylvania.

This information came from Mr. Alexander L. Pugh, Spring Valley New York, a descendant, about 1942.

The information was sent on to Rev. Abbott in Ireland who has spent much time on the Irish lines, and he replied: "Curiously enough I have the abstract of a will of a Thomas Church, of Drumbane, Co. Londonderry (he was probably an uncle of Arthur, Mayor of Coleraine). The date of the will is 1746. He mentions his second wife, Martha, and a son Paul, by his first wife." These names may indicate the family. He further says: "The Groves Moyletrator, Co. Derry, was the ancestral home of my mother's people. Paul Church did not live at the Grove, but the tenants on the Moyletrator estate often gave 'The Grove' as their address. There were two families of Church, tenants on the estate, when my uncle sold the property in 1893."

The "Commemorative Biographical Record of Central Pennsylvania" Published 1898, pg. 1012. gives the following about the above Maj. Thomas Church was a soldier in the Continental Army under General Washington. His son:-

Thomas Church served as Quartermaster in War of 1812. Died about 1821, as record says he died when John H. was 6.

Married Mary Ruston. He was of Irish and she of Welsh extraction. They had:

John H. born Sept. 15, 1818 Lancaster Co., Penn. next to oldest of 6 children. He was well known and respected citizen.

Married Susan Weaver, dau. of Daniel, in 1841.

Adaline, Mary, Ann, Elizabeth and Thomas remaining children.

In 1851 John H. went to Union Co. with his uncle, Clement Brooke, with whom he had lived since the age of six years, his father dying at that time. The uncle engaged in the iron business, owning a forge and furnace which he operated successfully.

A book "Our Kin" by Mary D. Ackerly and Lulu E.J. Parker, published 1939 states:

"Julia Morrow Church born Oct. 4, 1899, McKinney, Texas, daughter of Judge John Church who was born in 1843 at 'The Groves', home of the Church family, since the 16th. century, in Strabane, Londonderry County, Ireland. He graduated at Trinity College, Dublin, and came to McKinney, Texas, in 1873; studied law and became an able Judge and lecturer. He died Aug. 29, 1926". etc.

This quotation was sent to Rev. Wilfrid Abbott, Coleraine, North Ireland, whose mother was a daughter of James Church and Alicia Hartley Bloxham and he replied that the Judges children thought they were descendants of my grandfather. Of course the Judge knew all about his family history. My mother recorded in her diary how he came to say good bye to them at Oatlands before he left for America.

My grandfather owned two places; Oatlands and The Grove. Stephen Church, the Judge's father lived in a cottage on the Grove estate. The Grove is not in Strabane, and Strabane is in County Tyrone, not County Londonderry, so you see how little reliance can sometimes be placed in 'family history'. Strabane is between 40 and 50 miles from The Grove.

IRISH LINES.

Under date of July 11, 1942 Rev Wilfrid Abbott, Rin Varna, Coleraine, County Derry, North Ireland, writes:

I have recently had access to a copy of the old minutes of Coleraine Corporation for the period of January 6, 1671/2 to Nov. 16, 1710, also have been put in touch with Miss Edith Heywood, first cousin of the late Admiral William Drummond Church who told of an uncle of hers who, years ago, discovered a farmer living in Somerset, called Church, who had the same coat-of-arms. This may be a pointer on the original locale of the family.

The following data has been received mostly from Rev. Abbott, who has spent much time collecting it. Mrs. James M. Pratt, of Chicago, Illinois has also spent a great deal of time and has much data on the family in the United States. Her mother and Rev. Abbotts were named Church, before marriage. Information about William Warren Church from newspaper clippings in the United States and a letter from him. Rev. Abbott has been unable to connect these lines with any line from England although undoubtedly they were originally from that country.

Generation I.

Thomas Church¹ - Born about 1583, as estimated. Died between 1657 and 1662. Of English origin, believed to have come over to County Londonderry, Ireland, with Captain Thomas Phillips, afterwards Sir Thomas Phillips. Thomas became Agent to the Mercers' Company in 1622. Was living in Landmore in 1629. Took a 90 year lease of Moyanagher Castle, the official residence of the Mercers' Agent, in 1634, but was probably residing there before that. Left Moyanagher Castle during the rebellion of 1641, when the castle is said to have been destroyed, and went to Coleraine. Was probably at the Battle of the Loney. Commanded a troop of fifty horse and one hundred foot at Coleraine in 1642. Ceased his connection with the Mercers' Company in 1642. Was owner of the Townland of Slaughterneale in the Parish of Killelagh in 1656 (Civil Survey of 1654) Last mentioned in 1657. The Townland consisted of 955 acres. On the 25th. of March 1629, Thomas Church bought from Charles Williams, a freeholder on the Mercers' estate, the lands of Moylestratoy, apparently for his son George, and the Church family lived there from that date until 1785. He obtained a grant from Parliament for the upkeep of his troop of horse and he and his second son, Captain George, were together a few months later in the defense of Coleraine. Probably three of his sons fought in the Battle of Loney (erroneously spelled Lance in all accounts of the siege.)
 Married 1st.....1605.
 Married 2nd. Marybetween 1630 and 1633.

Generation II.

Children of Thomas¹ and wives .

By 1st. wife:

William² - Born ...Coroner of Coleraine in 1640, fought in the Battle of the Loney, near Ballymoney, dying perhaps of wounds received there, in January of 1642/3. He was buried in Derry Cathedral Churchyard January 29, 1642/3.

MarriedAfter he died his widow married Richard Rax Brazier, Mayor of Coleraine. He died April 21, 1674. She was still living in 1683.

Captain George Church² - Born probably about 1603. Died ...

Married Elizabeth Cooke before 1641, dau. of Col. George and Anne Cooke, and by her became possessor of half of her father's lands at the death of the Squire's son, the Squire having bought Ballyhenry and Bock in Moyra in 1632 from Dudley Phillips, son of Sir Thomas Phillips of Linavady. On the 14th. of August 1639, Captain George took a 21 year lease of Lisachrin, Dullagh, and Ballymoney. The Civil Survey of 1654 gives George as owner of Moylestratoy. He was an ensign in his father's troop, and later a Captain in the defense of Coleraine. Fought in the Battle of

Hester dau of Edward &

Laney. In Graham's "Ireland Preserved", we find that the Church family was nobly represented at the Siege of Derry:-

"Kinnaston and Wright put the foe to flight;
Sherrard, Garnett and Hanna
To the field did advance with Valient Vance,
And Church from the Banks of Banna."

In a note on this verse its author states: "George and William Church, gentlemen possessed of considerable property in the neighborhood of Coleraine, Garvagh and other parts of County Londonderry.

Thomas Church Jr.² Born Died 1703, of Kilrea. Name first appears in a Muster Roll of 1630. The "Army and Navy Register" of August 5, 1944 contains a list of ten officers of the army for temporary promotion "in recognition of outstanding leadership and courage on the field of battle". In this list is the name of Col. John H. Church, Infantry, promoted to Brigadier General (Temporary) A.U.S.

The following gives more about him:

Col. Church.

Col. Church, Infantry, won his promotion in combat as commander of an infantry regiment of the 45th. Division during the Italian campaign. The 45th. which helped break up the German counterattacks at Anzio and hold that critical area for the Allied forces, fought side by side with British forces in bearing the brunt of the enemy effort to drive the American and British into the sea.

Prior to its performance at Anzio, the same American division had fought with distinction in Sicily, at Salerno and northward through Italy.

Lieut. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Commanding General of U.S. Army Forces in the North ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ African Theater of Operations, reports that Col. Church demonstrated outstanding leadership, aggressiveness and tactical ability in the operations of the regiment.

Col. Church was born in Glen Iron, Pennsylvania, June 23, 1892, and entered the army as a second lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve May 3, 1917. Ordered to active duty June 1, 1917, he has remained in the Army since. His decorations include the DSC., SB., and Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster. He served with distinction as a company officer in the 23th. Infantry, 1st. Division, in the World War.

The D.S.C. citation referred to reads as follows:

"Church, John H. At Cantigny, France, May 28-31, 1918.

"Second Lieutenant, 28th. Infantry, First Division.

"Knocked down and rendered unconscious by the explosion of a shell early in the attack on Cantigny, France, May 28-31, 1918, he staggered forward as soon as he regained consciousness and insisted upon resuming command, thereby giving a striking example of fortitude to his men."

(G.O. No. 99. W.D., 1918).

Madam:

I advise you from the papers in the Revolutionary War pension claim, S. 12465, it appears that Thomas Church enlisted at Fishkill, New York in October 1777 and served as an artificer in Captains Jarius Wilcox and William Sizer's Companies of Colonel Jeduthan Baldwin's Regiment of Artillery Artificers, until April 1779.

He was allowed pension on his application executed April 14, 1818 while living at Haddam, Middlesex County, Connecticut. In 1820 he referred to his wife, her name not given, aged sixty years and he was then about seventy-one years of age. In 1832 he was also a resident of said town.

There are no further data on file as to his family.

Respectfully,

WINFIELD SCOTT,
Commissioner.
